20 Item 3. Chairman/Executive Director Comments

21 CHAIR CAREY: Welcome.

22 Another moment of change for the Agency and

23 the Board.

24 I think everyone knows that Mr. Hudson has

25 resigned from the Board due to time conflicts. But I

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 want to welcome Mr. Reyes here today for his first
2 meeting.

3 And I especially want to welcome our new
4 executive director, Claudia Cappio.

5 Claudia comes to us with a wide range of 6 experience in housing, city planning, economic 7 development, primarily in the Bay Area. She served as 8 development director for the City of Oakland, and 9 numerous significant projects there.

10 A reputation for creativity and enthusiasm,
11 which we're happy to have here.

12 And with that, I'd like to turn it over to 13 Ms. Cappio.

14 MS. CAPPPIO: Thank you.

15 I'm pleased to be here and to be part of the 16 Agency. And I've been very impressed so far about the 17 team that is composed of CalHFA. And I look forward to 18 working with the Board and with staff in the coming years
19 to continue to right our ship and to do what we do best,
20 which is lending for affordable housing in California.

21 And, you know, I have some initial thoughts
22 about what it is we need to do. And other than the 23 financial stability, which we are -- and liquidity -- 24 I've learned a lot about liquidity in the last couple of 25 weeks. But I think we need to look at the linkages

1 between climate change and affordable housing, land use
2 and transportation. I think there's a big part that we 3 will play in that in the coming years.

4 I think we need to look at efficiencies, not 5 only in working to better together a CalHFA, but the 6 other housing entities in the state. And also, to get 7 the most affordable housing produced in the most 8 efficient way, and hopefully for the least subsidy per 9 unit, while still meeting our income and other goals.

10 And then there is the age-old question in 11 California for at least the last 30 years about a 12 sustainable funding stream for affordable housing. And 13 although this may not be an ideal time, when you look at 14 other things around us -- other financial storms around 15 us -- I think with redevelopment being threatened, that 16 it's time to bring that up again and see what we can do
17 about it.

18 So those are my quick thoughts. And I look
19 forward to working with you all.

20 CHAIR CAREY: Well, I think we all look forward 21 to it also.

22 --oOo--

23 Item 4. Closed session under Government Code Section
24 11126(e) (1)

25 CHAIR CAREY: With that, we will be adjourning

1 to a closed session under Government Code 11126(e) (1) to 2 confer with and receive advice from counsel.

3 (Gavel sounded.)

4 (The Board of Directors met in closed executive 5 session from 10:09 a.m. to 10:24 a.m.)

6 CHAIR CAREY: We are back in session.

7 It's JoJo's arrival that triggers that.

8 --oOo--

9 Item 5. Discussion, recommendation, and possible action
10 regarding the audit recommendations of the 11 Bureau of State Audits

12 CHAIR CAREY: The next item of business is 13 Item 5, discussion and recommendation and possible action
14 regarding the recommendations from the Bureau of State
15 Audits' report, following up on a couple of the items 16 from that.

17 Mr. Spears, are you handling that?

18 MR. SPEARS: The Bureau of State Audits' report
19 had three recommendations.

20 One was for the Legislature, if you'll recall, 21 to review the statute that outlines the makeup of the 22 Board.

23 We presented some information at the last Board
24 meeting about other states and their boards. And there
25 were a number of questions. But in the end, the Board

1 asked the staff to prepare a memo about the ins and outs
2 of the statute, approaches that could be taken. But in 3 the end, this is an issue for the Legislature.

4 So Tom prepared the memo that you have.

5 Unfortunately, it did not go in the Board
6 packet because of my oversight. But Tom sent this out
7 afterwards.

8 If you don't have a copy of that with you, I
9 think JoJo brought extra copies. You probably have that 10 in front of you.

11 So I would just open it up for discussion.

12 CHAIR CAREY: Sort of as a preamble, I guess
13 I'd say that I've read the statute a few times, and a
14 hundred possibilities. And while the statute is somewhat 15 overly unnecessarily complicated, it also strikes me that 16 maybe this is a matter best left to the Legislature,
17 where the Bureau of State Audits directed it, and that 18 we'd be prepared to work with any suggestions or provide 19 input. But I'm not sure, from my point of view, that 20 this is the moment to be making recommendations on an 21 issue that seems less important than some of the others
22 we're dealing with.

23 I don't know what other members feel.

24 MR. GUNNING: Mr. Chairman, yes, I know at the 25 time it seemed like the gun was to our head. And,

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 obviously, it's funny what three months can do: A new 2 director, the Legislature's moved on. I think I would 3 concur with your assessment.

4 CHAIR CAREY: Other thoughts?

5 MS. PETERS: I agree that it's best left to the 6 Legislature.

7 I would ask that the legislative deputy for 8 the Agency, when or if she hears of the inklings of a
9 discussion of it, bring it to the Board so that we can 10 have a more thorough discussion of whatever we want to 11 weigh in, one way or the other, at that time.

12 CHAIR CAREY: That makes sense.

13 MR. GUNNING: Yes, and I think we need to be 14 vigilant. But right now, I think there's other fish to 15 fry. Pun intended over there.

16 CHAIR CAREY: Okay.

17 MS. PETERS: Speak of the devil.

18 MS. RICHARDSON: Sorry, I only caught the end
19 of Ms. Peters' comments when I was coming back in.

20 I can tell you that there is interest in having 21 some sort of legislation to address the BSA report.

22 Chairwoman Norma Torres from the Assembly
23 Housing Committee has expressed an interest. And there
24 is a bill, AB 1422. It's a Gatto bill that was a
25 completely unrelated vehicle that Mr. Gatto just sort of 1 had out there for another use.

2 It originally would have said that it dealt
3 with the whole salary survey issue. And it basically
4 just clarified that the Board was in charge of hiring
5 somebody to do the salary survey instead of the Agency.
6 And that bill was heard in the Assembly Housing Committee
7 last week, and it was amended to try to address the 8 conflict-of-interest provisions.

9 This Board, we've had this issue come up
10 before, where we've got a professional -- you know, our 11 statutes require that the Board be made up of people from 12 certain industries. And there is a conflict between our 13 governing statutes, which say that if you have a
14 conflict, you recuse yourself and the Government Code
15 conflict-of-interest statutes which basically say the 16 Board can't act if there's a conflict of interest. And 17 there have been conflicting Attorney General opinions on 18 this subject of how it affects this board.

19 We did sponsor legislation on this issue a 20 couple of years ago. That provision, one member of the 21 Senate at the time had a problem with that particular
22 language, so it was removed from the bill.

23 So 1422 was recently amended in an attempt to 24 address that issue; but it's still not the language that 25 our counsel believes we need to fully address that issue.

1 That will be going through the regular approval channels.
2 And I don't anticipate we'll have a problem getting it
3 approved, and so it will probably go in that bill. But I
4 haven't heard any discussion from the Legislature about 5 changing the -- you know, whether we needed actual
6 legislation to change the composition of the Board or add
7 additional members.

8 I think what I have heard from legislative 9 staff, mostly, is that they seem to think that there is 10 enough flexibility there that we have the ability to have 11 the financial expertise on the Board. It's just been 12 difficult for us to attract those kinds of members
13 because of potential conflict issues.

14 CHAIR CAREY: So just back to Ms. Peters'
15 comment, you will let the Board know if anything moves
16 along --

17 MS. RICHARDSON: Yes, yes.

18 CHAIR CAREY: -- of significance in that 19 respect?

20 MS. RICHARDSON: Yes.

21 CHAIR CAREY: Great.

22 MR. GUNNING: So what do you think
23 Assemblywoman Torres wants to do?

24 MS. RICHARDSON: She just, you know, read the 25 BSA audit, thought it was a fair audit. Nothing

1 surprising. Nothing shocking. But there were some 2 recommendations, and so she wants to be seen as being
3 proactive as far as, are there any recommendations.

4 She's been very engaged with us in discussing
5 what we might think we need to implement any of those 6 recommendations.

7 MR. GUNNING: If we could follow-up. You know,
8 she's on the insurance committee, and I've got a pretty
9 good relationship with her, so...

10 MS. RICHARDSON: Yes, okay.

11 CHAIR CAREY: Great. With that, the second
12 issue?

13 MR. SPEARS: The other two recommendations were 14 to the Board of directors.

15 One was that the Board adopt an overall policy
16 that would address a couple of things.

17 New financial strategies that the staff might 18 want to engage in for the Agency and also new loan
19 products that the staff might want to develop.

20 And the two recommendations really could 21 probably have been consolidated to one. The 22 recommendation was to have an overall policy; and the 23 recommendation also is every year, in January, when the 24 financing resolutions are discussed and adopted, that 25 there be a statement in there that: "Okay, we're

1 adopting this financing resolution; but if you want to do
2 anything that's different, you've got to come back to the 3 Board."

4 The same thing with the business plan and loan
5 products, that the business plan would contain language
6 that would say that the staff is required to come back to 7 the Board.

8 So we've taken care of that -- part of that --
9 in that the financing resolution has that language in it
10 that was adopted back in January. That's taken care of.
11 You will see in the business plan today statements to 12 that effect.

13 And finally, in the business plan, you'll also 14 see a restriction on the use of variable-rate debt. So
15 when you adopt the resolution today for the business
16 plan, you will accomplish almost all of what the Bureau
17 of State Audits recommended.

18 The only thing left is the overall policy, and 19 that's what this agenda item is about and that's what 20 this resolution attempts to accomplish.

21 CHAIR CAREY: And this is the language that was 22 discussed at the last Board meeting in March?

23 MR. SPEARS: Item 1 in the "Be it resolved"
24 portion is the language that was read by the Chair at the 25 last Board meeting in March.

1 Item 2 gets to the second part, that "The
2 business plan every year shall address these two items:
3 Variable-rate debt and the loan products."

4 CHAIR CAREY: Which I think reflects the sense
5 of the subsequent discussion that we had at that meeting.

6 Any questions or concerns?

7 MS. CRESWELL: Can you just remind me when the 8 next follow-up to the BSA, they were going to come back
9 at six months or something?

10 MR. SPEARS: Sixty days.

11 MS. CRESWELL: Sixty days?

12 MR. SPEARS: So we've responded twice already.

13 MS. CRESWELL: Okay.

14 MR. SPEARS: We've responded to the audit
15 itself; then 60 days later, we wrote a response letter.

16 MS. CRESWELL: Just sort of updating them on 17 what you had already accomplished?

18 MR. SPEARS: Right.

19 And I can't remember if the next follow-up is 20 six months or a year.

21 Six months.

22 And if the Board adopts this resolution and 23 the resolution with the business plan, the Board of 24 Directors, at least at this point, will fully comply with 25 all the recommendations.

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 MS. CRESWELL: Okay. Thank you.

2 CHAIR CAREY: Yes?

3 MS. CARROLL: Can I just ask for a quick
4 clarification?

5 Steve, I think what you're saying here -- and 6 it just was a little confusing, so I wanted to make sure;
7 so we're saying that, 1, under "Now, be it resolved," is 8 addressing directly what BSA asked us to do, which is to 9 have a policy; and then we're saying that 2 is the manner
10 in which we're going to implement that requirement, is 11 through the business plan each year?

12 Because it kind of -- you know, 2 talks about 13 limitations on variable-rate and loan products, which are 14 a little more specific than 1.

15 MR. SPEARS: Right. And that's the way the 16 recommendation is written.

17 Unfortunately, in the executive summary portion 18 of the BSA report, they have the short version of the 19 recommendation.

20 If you go to chapter 2 --

21 MS. CARROLL: Right.

22 MR. SPEARS: -- where the full text of the 23 recommendation is, it has both item 1 and item 2.

24 And we're just trying to --

25 MS. CARROLL: You're just echoing --

1 MR. SPEARS: -- word it the way they worded it.

2 MS. CARROLL: Okay, thank you.

3 I mean, I do think it's important, though,
4 regardless of how they worded it, that we're clear as the 5 Board that that's our intent, is that this is how we 6 implement their policy recommendation, is through the 7 business plan.

8 And is that --

9 MR. SPEARS: When I teach college classes, I
10 usually try to repeat myself two or three times.

11 So I think there's some repetition in here, but 12 I think it's...

13 CHAIR CAREY: It seems to me, it's also two 14 pieces of the issue. On the one hand, is new funding
15 strategies will be discussed with the Board.

16 The other was more specifically the issue
17 around variable debt. And following our discussion, 18 wanting a little more clarity on where and how the 19 decision would be codified by the amount of variable debt
20 for the Agency.

21 MR. HUNTER: I just want to say, I went back, 22 actually, and carefully reviewed the minutes around that 23 conversation, because I was trying to remember everything
24 we had talked through; and I thought the resolution 25 captured exactly what we were trying to get at.

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 MR. SPEARS: Tom and I spent a lot of time
2 doing exactly that. I went back -- Peter and I had a
3 conversation just to make sure. We especially reviewed
4 Katie's comments, because we wanted to get it right.
5 And then when you read the full recommendation in the 6 body of the report itself, it's more specific than the 7 summary up-front.

8 CHAIR CAREY: Any other comments or questions?

9 (No response)

10 CHAIR CAREY: Would someone care to make a
11 motion to approve --

12 MR. HUNTER: I will move adoption of
13 Resolution 11-06.

14 MR. HUGHES: Mr. Chair, I think we need to ask
15 for public comments first.

16 CHAIR CAREY: Okay, now, I get mixed signals.
17 Before or after the motion?

18 MR. HUGHES: I think before we vote.

19 CHAIR CAREY: Yes.

20 MR. SMITH: Second the motion.

21 CHAIR CAREY: We have a motion and a second.

22 Thank you.

23 With that, this is an opportunity for the 24 public to comment on this particular item.

25 If there's anyone in the audience who would

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 like to address the Board, please indicate so.

2 (No response)

3 CHAIR CAREY: Seeing none, roll call.

4 MS. OJIMA: Thank you.

5 Ms. Creswell?

6 MS. CRESWELL: Yes.

7 MS. OJIMA: Mr. Gunning?

8 MR. GUNNING: Yes.

9 MS. OJIMA: Mr. Hunter?

10 MR. HUNTER: Yes.

11 MS. OJIMA: Ms. Carroll?

12 MS. CARROLL: Yes.

13 MS. OJIMA: Mr. Smith?

14 MR. SMITH: Yes.

15 MS. OJIMA: Ms. Peters?

16 MS. PETERS: Yes.

17 MS. OJIMA: Mr. Carey?

18 CHAIR CAREY: Yes.

19 MS. OJIMA: Resolution 11-06 has been approved.

20 CHAIR CAREY: Congratulations, Board, for 21 getting this behind us.

22 MR. SPEARS: Not quite. You still have another
23 resolution.

24 MS. PETERS: The business plan.

25 MR. SPEARS: You're almost there.

1 Item 6. Report of the Chairman of the Audit Committee

2 CHAIR CAREY: The next item of business is a
3 report by the chair of the Audit Committee which met this 4 morning.

5 MR. SMITH: Yes, Mr. Chairman.

6 The Audit Committee met this morning and 7 reviewed the audit. It was good news/bad news.

8 The good news is that the process by which we 9 handle our budget is -- our numbers, there were no
10 comments or no misstatements. Everything was great.

11 The bad news is that -- and I'll read the 12 conclusion because I think it's important to read the 13 wording that they provided.

14 "The Fund has experienced recurring losses,
15 and Management of the Fund has concluded that there is a
16 substantial doubt as to the Fund's ability to continue
17 as a going concern."

18 We all know -- and we've been talking about 19 this for quite a while -- that the fund that provides 20 25 percent of the insurance that we give when we have 21 losses as a result of foreclosure is running out of 22 money, and we expect it to run out of money by the third
23 quarter of this year.

24 So it's not new information, but it's now in 25 the audit. So it's important to have the Board members

1 understand that.

2 CHAIR CAREY: Any questions or comments from 3 other Audit Committee members?

4 MR. SPEARS: For your reading pleasure, in the 5 Board binders is a full set of the audit financials, with 6 the footnotes. And one of them has this information that 7 Mr. Smith just outlined.

8 CHAIR CAREY: Okay, thank you, Mr. Smith.

9 --oOo--

10 Item 7. Discussion, recommendation, and possible
11 action regarding the adoption of a resolution
12 approving the Two-Year Business Plan for 13 Fiscal Years 2011/2012 and 2012/2013

14 CHAIR CAREY: Well, now, having looked back, we 15 get a chance to look forward, which I think we all enjoy
16 more.

17 Item 7 is discussion of the proposed two-year
18 business plan.

19 MR. SPEARS: Mr. Chairman and Members, we bring 20 to you a proposal for the next two years' business plan.

21 The intent was to provide you in your binders
22 with an easy-to-read PowerPoint plan. We tried to 23 summarize a lot of those slides in what you'll see on the 24 screen. So the handout slides will sort of follow along
25 with the more detailed slides.

1 I've added a few pictures along the way to make
2 it more interesting.

3 And I decided that, with Bruce, that we
4 would -- with the action by Standard & Poor's last week
5 on our ratings, with the upcoming action on Moody's, that 6 we would spend a little time in the assumptions part to 7 discuss something that wasn't in your slides, and that is 8 how we're doing with the rating agencies, how we're doing
9 with the single-family portfolio, and how we're doing on 10 liquidity. Those are the lynchpins.

11 We'll spend some time on that first, then we'll 12 get to the divisions -- you know, the lending activity, 13 and walk you through that.

14 The theme for today is, though, that I think 15 we're cautiously optimistic. We see a couple of 16 indications of turnarounds, but we're going to be 17 cautious about that.

18 Our funding sources, though, are beginning to 19 come to an end. We've done some lending, and it's been 20 great. It's been great for the Agency. It's been great 21 for the morale of the employees, frankly.

22 The reason we were able to do that, we have 23 Mental Health Services Act funds that are not bond-
24 funded, $400 million. That's worked very, very well.

25 We helped the Tax Credit Allocation Committee

1 get some ARRA funds out the door, and helped with that.
2 And because of the New Issue Bond Program with the 3 U.S. Treasury, we're able to do both Homeownership
4 lending and Multifamily lending.

5 The NIBP expires at the end of 2011. According
6 to Mr. Deaner -- which you'll hear in a few minutes --
7 MHSA funds probably are fully committed and closed and 8 out the door by early 2013. So the question is, what do
9 things look like after that?

10 I think in our conversations with the municipal 11 finance world, our world of housing tax-exempt bonds is 12 probably not going to change much in the next two to 13 three to four years.

14 So what you're going to see are proposals for 15 new ideas, some of which you saw at the March Board
16 meeting, some are new. Some we're sort of pulling
17 together. You've seen them before. We're going to pull 18 them together in a side-by-side with multifamily.

19 But what we're trying to do is look at 20 different ways to do business and accomplish the mission
21 of this agency going forward. And I think that's what 22 you'll see.

23 But first, we'll spend a few minutes -- I'm 24 going to let Bruce sort of dominate the conversation on 25 this part, and I'll run the slide show.

1 MR. GILBERTSON: Okay, I don't know, Steve, do
2 you want to talk a little bit -- I'll just summarize the 3 rating action over the last week or ten days.

4 I know that the Board members all received the 5 reports. But S & P has completed their review this 6 go-around of our two primary credits -- the Agency's 7 general-obligation or issuer credit rating, as well as 8 the Agency's large single-family whole-loan parity
9 indenture that has some $5 billion of debt outstanding.
10 We call that the Home Mortgage Revenue Bond indenture.

11 The G.O. rating of the Agency was dropped one 12 notch from A, to A-minus. It was removed from 13 CreditWatch for negative outlook. And it was put simply 14 on negative outlook, which is a positive step, all things
15 considered.

16 Clearly, that's a rating that we can continue
17 to function, and the financial operations of the agencies
18 will not be impacted significantly.

19 Then late last week, the Home Mortgage Revenue
20 Bond indenture that has exposure to the insurance fund
21 that you've already talked about was downgraded three 22 notches, from A to Bbb and put as a stable outlook. You
23 know, hopefully we found a resting spot. That would be 24 ideal.

25 But, again, even at that lower-level rating,

1 the bonds will trade effectively, the program should work
2 okay. And we're thinking that's a positive development.

3 The Moody's action is, you know, in the queue.
4 We believe they'll probably go to committee next week.
5 Clearly, before the end of next week we think we'll have 6 some rating assessments and updates that we will share at 7 that time.

8 Again, for what it's worth, my opinion is, I
9 think we're going to be in the same general range as 10 where S & P ended up.

11 Certainly, as you've heard from us before,
12 there are some rating triggers. And if we fall below
13 certain levels, it does cause kind of a domino effect;
14 but I don't believe that's going to be the case.

15 The other good news is earlier today, we did
16 close $180 million bond financing for a single-family
17 program. $72 million of these bonds were sold in the 18 marketplace. $108 million were program bonds out of the 19 NIBP program. This will finance about 800 to 1,000
20 homeowners that have reserved a loan through our program.

21 All of these are in the form of an FHA loan
22 pooled into a Ginnie Mae security. And as many as 23 $80 million of those proceeds will be put to use by 24 June 1st. So another $100 million will go out over the 25 next couple months.

1 With that, as we develop the business plan this
2 year -- and this is similar to the approach we took last
3 year -- we thought we had to kind of revisit --

4 MR. SPEARS: One housekeeping item.

5 So, the slides you're going to see on the 6 screen closely follow what you read through in your
7 binders, but we did put the summary slides in. So I
8 encourage you to use the handout that you have in front
9 of you rather than trying to follow along, because we did
10 add some pictures here and there.

11 MR. GILBERTSON: So as we developed -- again,
12 Steve selected a handful of slides. But as we kind of 13 start talking about what kind of business we can do over 14 the next year or two years or five years, for that 15 matter, we kind of have to take an assessment of the 16 marketplace, the economy in California, and what are the 17 significant indicators that might impact loan production,
18 our ability to offer loan products at attractive rates.
19 There are many things that need to be discussed.

20 This is a simple slide that gives you some 21 sense of what we believe the interest-rate markets might 22 look like over the next two years; and then some simple
23 indicators as it relates to housing and the California
24 economy.

25 So, just to make sure we're all on the same

1 page: These are fiscal year quarters. So Quarter 1, 2 under 2011-12 is the quarter that begins on July 1 of 3 2011 and runs through the end of September 2011.

4 Likewise, Quarter 3 in the 2012-2013 fiscal 5 year is the first calendar quarter in 2013, from 6 January 1, 2013, through March 31st, 2013.

7 So we simply looked at ten-year Treasury as a
8 big indicator of where mortgage rates are going to go.
9 It's much lower than 3.73 today, I'll tell you. It's 10 about 3.15 or 3.20. I don't know exactly where it is 11 this morning. But this is a forecast from the Anderson
12 School at UCLA of where they think rates are going to go.

13 Pretty flat, to me. It generally rises over 14 the course of two years. Not a surprise. I think we 15 know that rates will probably tick up. I don't think 16 it's at that level.

17 At the short end of the curve, rates are 18 probably going to rise more rapidly as evidenced by the 19 federal funds rate. Pretty consistently low. It's been 20 hovering around 25 basis points for the better part of 21 two, two and a half years.

22 It does look like it's going to pick up as you
23 get into next year; and, of course, as you approach the 24 election in 2012, people are thinking that may be the 25 time when rates really try to make a significant move.

1 The Domestic Municipal Bonds Index is, again,
2 the Anderson forecast index for municipal bonds. It
3 probably parallels a long-term MMD, which is a Aaa
4 general-obligation bond index for municipalities. Not 5 really relevant to housing bonds, but it's something from 6 which we can expect to pay a spread above that index for 7 housing bonds.

8 And then internally, we've developed our own
9 housing bond cost or index; and you can see how we've 10 projected those rates to kind of parallel the movement in 11 the ten-year Treasury. And, again, we're building that 12 index based off of actual bonds sold in the marketplace, 13 the bonds that we sold two weeks ago, and a spread to 14 U.S. Treasuries.

15 To the extent that the relationship between the 16 ten-year Treasury rates and our housing bonds change over 17 time, it will either be better or it will be worse.

18 Certainly, it can't be much worse than this 19 chart illustrates. And I'll go over that here in a 20 moment. Because what you need to do is -- that's our 21 funding cost, the housing bond cost. And if we just 22 jump out to the fourth quarter of 2012-2013, our 23 projection is that our funding cost achieves a bond yield
24 of 6.35 percent. But we are in a mortgage marketplace
25 where lenders are offering 5.71 percent.

1 Clearly, that doesn't work, so there's got to
2 be some change in the relationship between tax exemption
3 and taxable debt. I don't know when that will occur, but 4 I would expect that to occur at some point.

5 The next portion then is, you know, what are 6 some indicators that tell us the economy might be 7 improving in California? We think unemployment is key.
8 Unemployment is going to be key, we believe, for the 9 current borrowers that are in our loan programs, where we 10 have a high percentage of delinquency today.

11 And this generally shows that there's an 12 improving trend; but it does take a while to even get 13 below 11 percent unemployment in California. And that 14 won't occur until next calendar year.

15 And then as you get out into 2013, perhaps we 16 get below 10 percent. It's going in the right direction;
17 it just probably isn't going downhill fast enough.

18 And then residential building permits. This is 19 in anticipation of new construction initiatives in the 20 housing sector. Again, pretty slow over the next 21 12 months, but it looks like it might pick up as you get 22 into the 2012-2013 fiscal year.

23 MR. SPEARS: So a couple of good-news and 24 bad-news things on this.

25 Obviously, we'd be happy for unemployment to go

1 down. That makes our single-family portfolio perform
2 better. And that would be really marvelous, and more of 3 our borrowers would be able to stay in their homes. That 4 would be fabulous.

5 The two lines that cause heartburn are the 6 housing bond costs and the conventional mortgage rate.
7 You can see that after the New Issue Bond Program
8 expires, that's, if you will, upside-down. Our cost is 9 higher than the market rate.

10 So that's why, on the homeownership side, we're 11 going to be trying to develop programs and models of -- 12 I'm sorry, loan products that are non-bond-funded, so 13 that we can offer something that is not out there for 14 first-time home buyers, and move forward.

15 MR. GILBERTSON: One more point. I think it
16 would be a failure of mine if I didn't emphasize this,
17 that if you compare the housing bond cost for the second
18 quarter of 2011-12 to the conventional mortgage rate, 19 2011-2012, you can see now, during this period of time,
20 over the next six to seven months, we do have a financing
21 mechanism that might work. That's attributable to the 22 New Issue Bond Program that goes away at the end of 2011.
23 Because the jump into the third quarter, as you compare
24 those two, we unlikely will have an ability to attract 25 capital at a rate that we can finance any significant

1 amount of loans.

2 A couple other general assumptions to go over.
3 As we built this, we had to assume that we are going to 4 have adequate funds and capital reserves to fulfill our 5 ongoing obligations. So we've done so.

6 The Agency liquidity directly related to credit
7 ratings. And we'll go over that in a little more detail
8 later. But we believe that we have sufficient liquidity
9 to fund all of the Agency's operations and obligations
10 that we can see over the two-year time horizon.

11 In many respects, the work that we've done over 12 the last two years has taken away some of the noise
13 around things that could happen to us. Of specific note, 14 is the Bay Area Housing Plan financing that, thanks to 15 Katie and others at the Treasurer's office and the State
16 of California, was successfully financed by another state
17 entity in February of this year. Extremely helpful to 18 the Agency.

19 The other thing is that the tax-exempt
20 municipal bond market, as we've been pointing out, may 21 not allow a competitive bond rate. We may not be able to 22 finance the loan programs as we have historically.

23 And to the prior discussion and the adoption of 24 Resolution 11-06, here is the notion that the policy of 25 the Board is that we will only use variable-rate bonds

1 in limited ways. And those two bullets are to refund
2 existing variable-rate bonds and to finance new 3 multifamily conduit bond programs where the Agency has 4 no risk exposure.

5 Those bullets are consistent with the financing
6 regulations adopted by the Board in January, and then
7 slightly amended in March as well.

8 So this is where we're introducing the audit
9 recommendation into the business plan.

10 MR. SPEARS: A couple other quick items about 11 liquidity. Again, unfortunately, we're not going to have 12 a housing fund cash to fund programs that we have in the 13 past. That's going to continue to be a problem this 14 year. And we'll try to revive those programs in the 15 future as cash becomes available.

16 But on the good side, we do still have state
17 G.O. bond money available for downpayment assistance.
18 And we're going to continue to use that. And Gary will 19 talk about that when he talks about the homeownership
20 programs.

21 So a couple things we want to put in. These 22 are pictures that we used yesterday -- I'm sorry, it's 23 not as visible as we'd like. We met with the United 24 States Treasury folks, and Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac
25 were on the phone, and we went through our credit

1 presentation with them. And, of course, the key thing
2 that everyone is worried about is the single-family
3 portfolio performance.

4 And so we thought we would show you some 5 tendencies that we're seeing.

6 The first slide that you see here deals with 7 folks who are in the 30-day category. And the tendency
8 of people to move out of the 30-day delinquency category
9 into the 60-day delinquency category seems to be heading
10 downhill. And that's, obviously, a good sign.

11 We don't want to place too much reliance on 12 that. We'd like to see actual -- you know, better
13 performance down the road.

14 The other thing is that, who is in the 30-day
15 category who they're catching up and getting current 16 again. And that could be because they're getting a loan
17 modification, that could be because they returned home
18 from a vacation and remembered that they forgot to make 19 their payment. It could be a lot of different things.

20 Over the entire study period, from December
21 2008 until now, it's still a little inconclusive. This 22 is a regression line for the entire period.

23 What I'm encouraged by is what you see at the 24 very end there, where that's moving to a higher percent
25 of people that are getting current after they've been

1 30 days.

2 So the next is -- and, again, I apologize, the 3 slide is a little light on the eyes -- folks that are 4 moving from the 60-day to the 90-day category, that's 5 trending downward, especially in the last two or three 6 months of the study. And folks that are moving back from 7 60-day, back to 30-day -- and here again, that could be 8 for a lot of reasons -- it's a little less conclusive,
9 but that is climbing.

10 The other thing that we should note before we 11 move on, and that is, we have stepped up foreclosures.
12 We had a couple moratoriums while we were developing loan
13 modification programs, and moving our loan-servicing
14 operations and REO operations to West Sacramento; and we 15 developed a backlog, not unlike a lot of other servicers
16 around the country.

17 It also took a while to staff up and move some 18 staff around to deal with this and train them. And that 19 took a little time and all that. We did build up a 20 backlog.

21 So what's happening, I think, is a couple
22 things: Our loan-modification program is working. We 23 have fewer people going into that deeply seriously
24 delinquent category. And we've stepped up foreclosures.
25 We've simply tried to be honest with borrowers about

1 their inability to make it, and try to exit as gracefully
2 as possible; but we've moved forward.

3 CHAIR CAREY: Steve, do you think that the Keep 4 Your Home California has anything to do with the number
5 that are returning to current?

6 MR. SPEARS: It's a little early to tell. We 7 have done a lot of loan modifications. And one of the 8 goals you'll see for next year and the following year, 9 is to try to increase the number of borrowers who are 10 sustainable, and they continue on with payments.

11 $2 million of Keep Your Home money has gone
12 into the Home Mortgage Revenue Bond indenture so far.
13 That's, you know, hundreds -- well, we've done hundreds 14 of modifications. We were doing them before Keep Your 15 Home California came along; but we really have ramped up
16 on that, from the pilot program that started late last 17 summer, all the way through until now.

18 It's a little hard to tell -- it has to be part
19 of this. It just has to be. Because once you modify a 20 loan and people start making their monthly payment, they 21 move out of the category. They're one of these folks who 22 are going from seriously delinquent, all the way back to 23 being current again.

24 The secret is to keep them current and keep 25 them in a payment that they can afford to make for -- you

1 know, on an ongoing basis.

2 So what we have on the next is, this is the 3 statistic that the rating agencies focus on, frankly.
4 In the 60-plus category, the bars are the number of 5 loans. And this is what I try to focus on because this 6 represents the dollar amount, if you take this and 7 multiply it by an average loan-loss amount, the dollar
8 amount of exposure that we have.

9 The percent delinquency is represented by the 10 blue line, and that's on the right axis. And you can see 11 that that's gradually trending down.

12 I, frankly -- the only way that this can 13 happen, for it to trend down like this, is that fewer 14 people are coming into this category than are going out
15 in the form of foreclosures and short sales and that sort 16 of thing.

17 So we like the trend. I just want to be 18 cautiously optimistic.

19 I think the major reason for the significant 20 decline from the peak in January of 2010 or February, of 21 somewhere around 2,100 loans, down to 1,500, is because 22 we've been doing a lot of foreclosures.

23 I wish I could say that folks are all now
24 current and no one's going into the "delinquent"
25 categories; they are.

1 CHAIR CAREY: So the number of loans in total
2 is shrinking, which drives the percentage up?

3 MR. SPEARS: Well, for the math lesson of the 4 day, this percent delinquency is not declining as rapidly
5 as it went up. And the reason is, when a loan falls out
6 of the portfolio into foreclosure, you remove it from the 7 numerator and the denominator. So, of course, this is 8 going to trend down more gradually than it went up.

9 CHAIR CAREY: So the same number of 10 delinquencies is the higher percentage of the portfolio?

12 Let me stop there while you're thinking of 13 questions to ask.

14 Genworth is key to this whole thing. And I'm 15 sure you all heard Genworth was downgraded in 16 February again.

17 Chuck will tell you that our relationship with 18 Genworth is very, very good. They have not, on a 19 consistent basis, denied claims, played "gotcha," any of 20 that sort of thing.

21 I think we did a little study not long ago --
22 six months or so ago, and I wanted to know how many 23 claims have been denied. There are somewhere in the 24 neighborhood of 20 to 25, out of all the claims that we 25 had filed. And the reasons were mistakes. Just, it was

1 someone who used to have Genworth mortgage insurance but,
2 you know, was able to cancel it because of the 80-percent
3 rule. And we just filed by accident.

4 And I'm very encouraged by that. And their
5 claims-paid ability seems to be strong. Their parent
6 company, Genworth Financial, continues to contribute
7 capital to meet their obligations. So we're encouraged;
8 but that is key to this whole thing.

9 Are there any questions?

10 (No response)

11 Mr. SPEARS: All right, great.

12 The other thing that Claudia mentioned in her 13 opening comments and that we focus on daily, is our 14 liquidity projections.

15 And I'll let Bruce talk to that topic.

16 MR. GILBERTSON: Okay, so what we've tried to 17 do -- you've seen similar projections in the past. We 18 did go out over a longer period of time this year. So 19 this covers our liquidity projection between now and the 20 end of 2015. So four-plus years.

21 You can see the beginning balance as of 22 March 1st was $238 million.

23 There has been a revision to that. And I
24 think, you know, fairly significant, so we ought to talk 25 about that.

1 That, today, is probably closer to
2 $210 million, for two reasons. We've posted more
3 collateral to our swap counterparties for two reasons.
4 Interest rates from March to today have fallen rather
5 dramatically. And so about $20 million of that change
6 is attributable to the falling interest rate environment,
7 which means the market value of these financial contracts
8 has increased, and our requirement to post collateral
9 increases as well.

10 And then, of course, when S&P downgraded our 11 G.O. credit rating from A to A-minus, our threshold --
12 because we post collateral above the threshold amount --
13 went down. And so we had to post about another
14 $10 million -- or $20 million as a result of that. So
15 in total, it's $30 million. We have about $210 million
16 of liquidity today.

17 I'll quickly run through what the components
18 are of projected income, and then how we use our 19 liquidity over the next four-plus years.

20 We have a number of loans in portfolio that are 21 no longer encumbered by bonds. So every time that we get 22 a monthly P & I payment on those loans, you know, it goes
23 into the General Fund reserve of the Agency.

24 So for the ten months, from March 1 through the 25 end of 2011, that's about $28 million in P & I payments

1 that we expect to receive. You can see in 2012 it's
2 $39 million. It kind of goes up, and then it does fall
3 off as some of the portfolio gets to term.

4 A lot of these are the old multifamily
5 Section 8 loans that the Agency made in the 1980s --
6 30- and 40-year terms, but they have longer to run, from 7 a loan perspective.

8 We receive a number of fees for administrative 9 fees out of bond indentures because of our involvement
10 with the loan and bond programs. We have servicing fee
11 income from the loans that we service in-house. We have 12 investment income as well from -- not that it's very 13 great these days, considering what we're reinvesting at.
14 But we do get some investment return as well.

15 The reimbursement of swap payments, you know,
16 it's an offset. So the most important thing to take away
17 here is that the $41 million that we receive up here is 18 the $41 million that we're using down here as an advance
19 to pay swap counterparties. They do net each other out.
20 This is our projection of what those amounts might be,
21 you know, over the four-plus years.

22 And then the last component of sources of 23 liquidity is the amount of money that may come out of 24 bond programs, that are excess to the needs to pay debt
25 service and the like. And those are projected here on

1 that last line, $5 million this year, approximately 2 $10 million over the next four years.

3 And then on the expenditure side, you have 4 operating expenses as one of the uses of liquidity. I'm 5 not sure that these are still going to deliver; but
6 potentially, we have an obligation to fund $1.5 million
7 of loans out of this capital base.

8 We've set aside some money to pay for financing
9 costs related. For example, the bonds we closed today,
10 the Agency made a contribution to that to pay the cost of 11 issuance and to fund a capitalized interest reserve of 12 about $3 million. So that's in there, as well as some 13 additional money to pay G.O.-backed bond debt service to 14 the extent that's needed over the next four years.

15 And then the last item is, we still have one
16 loan outstanding with the State Treasurer's office under 17 the Pooled Money Investment account loan program. Our 18 agreement with the Treasurer's office is that we'll repay
19 that within two installments over the next 12 months or 20 15 months, thereabouts.

21 But the picture then is one that the liquidity
22 projection is actually rising over the next four years
23 unless there is some other unexpected event. What are 24 the things that could be most -- collateral posting to 25 swap counterparties would be the most significant. As

1 you heard just from March to May, about $30 million has 2 been posted.

3 We do believe that collateral posting over the 4 next 18 to 24 months is going to fall dramatically as the 5 swaps naturally amortize. And if interest rates rise, as 6 we showed you in the table before in economic indicators,
7 the market value of those swaps will fall dramatically as 8 well.

9 Any questions on the liquidity projection?

10 MS. CARROLL: We're still waiting for Moody's?

11 MR. GILBERTSON: Yes.

12 MS. CARROLL: And is there anything that 13 Moody's could do that would negatively impact the 14 liquidity or because we're safe with S & P, and that 15 rating is set, does that mean we're pretty safe?

16 MR. GILBERTSON: Well, I think -- let's go to 17 the next slide because this will demonstrate exactly
18 where we are, Katie.

19 The Board has seen this slide before. So we 20 have three columns that depict the three central credits
21 that the Agency is concerned with: Our General
22 Obligation, HMRB, and the M.I. fund.

23 I'm not going to talk too much about the M.I.
24 fund. You've heard the audit results and, again, very 25 low ratings. And, again, we don't think that it's going

1 to have sufficient liquidity to meet all of its
2 obligations prospectively.

3 . But on the General Obligation rating off the 4 Agency, Moody's is still at A2.

5 The rating trigger event is really
6 characterized by the gray bar. So if we fall below
7 A-minus or A3, then we're going to have a significant
8 obligation to our swap counterparties.

9 MS. CARROLL: And that's by either rating
10 agency?

11 MR. GILBERTSON: Either rating agency, correct.

12 MS. CARROLL: It doesn't have to be both?

13 MR. GILBERTSON: You know, I know that Moody's,
14 having talked to them many times in the last three 15 months, they were very concerned about what S & P was 16 going to do, because S & P could put us in a rating level
17 that would trigger this event. They were quite relieved
18 when they heard where S & P ended up.

19 .My expectation -- they haven't told me
20 anything -- is that we're going to be in the same,
21 general area. I don't really anticipate that we're going
22 to fall into the BBB category.

23 And similarly, HMRB, we're at A3, quite a bit
24 higher than the BBB rating that S & P assigned to the 25 HMRB indenture. Again, everything works financially, as

1 long as we stay above BBB-minus/Baa3.

2 MR. SPEARS: All right, if there are no further
3 questions, then we'll move into the next phase, and that 4 is on the business plan priorities. I think you'll see
5 some very familiar Easter-egg colored charts here.

6 The only difference in the "survive, revive and 7 thrive" blocks, Ms. Peters, is that with the economy, the 8 real estate markets and, frankly, the bond markets
9 muddling along, if you will, we've had to extend all 10 this. I think we've -- this, by the way, starts with 11 July 1st, 2010. So these yearly numbers are starting 12 with July. So we've had to extend the "survive" mode out
13 into the first of 2013.

14 And Claudia and I discussed this, and I tried 15 to figure out a way to shade this in some way, and that 16 there might be if we had some things turn around. If 17 unemployment drops faster than we thought, and the 18 economy comes back faster than we thought, and the market
19 comes back faster than we thought, all of those things
20 help us get into the "revive" mode faster.

21 But I think you could start to see us
22 accomplishing some of the things in the "revive" mode,
23 you know, in the 2012 era.

24 I'm not sure about the return to profitability.
25 That all hinges on the performance of the single-family

1 portfolio. It hinges on the extension of the temporary
2 credit liquidity facility that we have with the U.S.
3 Treasury, which I might say, that we are in discussions
4 with them, and we've requested an extension beyond the 5 end of 2012.

6 So there are just a lot of "ifs," so it's very 7 difficult to look out into as far as 2015. But I just 8 think, in general, this is all going to take a little bit 9 longer than we originally thought two years ago.

10 All right, so we're going to -- we're
11 suggesting that the Board keep the same priorities that 12 were adopted last year. It's exactly the same slide, I 13 believe.

14 And I think, though, towards the bottom, what 15 we want to do is look to other partnerships with other 16 housing agencies and funding sources, both local and 17 state, look for new business opportunities.

18 Obviously, what's key to this, if we want to be 19 in the lending mode, is to look for non-bond-funded ways
20 of doing business. And that's what you're going to hear 21 a little bit more about.

22 MR. REYES: Would this be a good time for a
23 question?

24 MR. SPEARS: Yes, sir. Shoot.

25 MR. REYES: If you go back a couple slides --

1 there you go, Easter-egg colors -- excuse my ignorance,
2 it's my first meeting here, and I probably should be
3 listening instead of talking, but when I look at your 4 three colors and your "survive, revive, and thrive," and 5 you mention it's similar to what you did last time, how 6 often would this get updated? Will this be next year's 7 also?

8 I'm looking at this as a five-year plan or a
9 two-year plan -- actually, it was a five-year plan at 10 2015. I'm looking at "survive," and you have "maintain 11 credit ratings." And the credit ratings that we have 12 aren't so hot right now based on what just happened. And 13 I'm looking at the "revive," and I don't see anything
14 that says improve credit ratings, nor under the "thrive," 15 to improve credit ratings.

16 So given that a credit rating just didn't do so 17 hot recently, when would be a good time to update this on 18 the either "revive" or "thrive" mode to improve the 19 credit ratings?

20 MR. SPEARS: Right now, we can add that.

21 These are priorities that -- we had several 22 sessions last year -- two in February, I think, and then
23 our March meeting -- and we, as the Board, hammered out
24 just some fundamentals about how we're going to move
25 forward, and they adopted the five priorities that you

1 see there.

2 MR. REYES: Right.

3 MR. SPEARS: And they adopted this approach
4 here. And just fundamental tenets. I don't think you're 5 going to see us move into the "revive" mode without 6 ratings beginning to come back up again.

7 It's sort of a result of doing all these things
8 that you see bulleted here.

9 MR. REYES: I guess, I'm looking at it, in 10 2010, where it says "survive," about maintaining credit
11 ratings. And since then, the credit ratings went down.

12 So the question, I guess, is more to the Board:
13 Does the Board have any interest, or do you just keep it
14 as is and move along, I guess?

15 Again, this is my first meeting.

16 MR. GILBERTSON: Just a couple of other
17 observations, I think.

18 One is, the intention of the "maintain," is to 19 maintain it above that gray bar that I showed on the one
20 slide.

21 And I think as it relates to improving credit
22 ratings, the bond indenture that we closed on this
23 morning is an Aaa-rated indenture from Moody's.

24 So we can establish loan and financing programs
25 that have superior ratings than these credit ratings that

1 are extremely important to the Agency to tie into the 2 viability of the Agency going forward.

3 So I think we're doing that. We've gotten the 4 message. We've talked a lot with the Board about the 5 type of loan program. And so if we don't have real
6 estate exposure, as we don't in a Ginnie Mae-backed bond
7 indenture, we can achieve an Aaa rating. And so Moody's
8 reaffirmed that again as a part of the closing today. So
9 it's a little bit of both.

10 The focus, I think, here is on the G.O. rating
11 of the Agency. I personally believe stability is going 12 to come first; and it will be a slow climb back to 13 improve those ratings, unfortunately.

14 MR. REYES: Okay.

15 CHAIR CAREY: And I think that the document's
16 completely flexible. I think it was a way -- and it was 17 that work session we had in Burbank a couple of years
18 ago. It was a way to define the Agency's focal point
19 for the next few years by recognizing we couldn't do all 20 things at once, that we couldn't be doing the new
21 stuff -- and I'm just saying, if the Agency survived --
22 which it is doing -- it would be a great mark of success
23 in the current environment. And so it could be adjusted
24 in any way.

25 MR. SPEARS: They are shorthand for some very 1 long discussions that were had last year.

2 CHAIR CAREY: Yes.

3 MR. SPEARS: And Bruce is right, this "maintain 4 credit ratings," it's a shorthand way of saying, maintain 5 them above the cliff levels of A-minus for the G.O. and 6 BBB-minus and above for the HMRB.

7 So moving on, we're moving into the 8 homeownership area.

9 And we'll bring Gary up.

10 And here again, what we're going to focus on 11 here are new ideas, new products.

12 You saw some of these in March. And we're 13 going to tell you what we're thinking about. But I think 14 the ask of the Board is in the business plan, is that we 15 pursue all of these. We had focus groups. We got some 16 reaction from folks out there in the field, and implement
17 the ones that are the most successful.

18 Obviously, I think it would be difficult for 19 staff to do, implement all of them, all at the same time.
20 So we would probably do them in sequence. But that's the 21 ask of the Board, is that we move ahead with these, we 22 implement them, and in the order that we think the market
23 would be accepting them.

24 So I'll let Gary talk about these slides on 25 homeownership, and then we'll try to wrap that up.

1 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: Thanks, Steve.

2 Good morning, Board Members.

3 These products that you'll see are in 4 development and under consideration. And we're 5 incorporating them into our business plan with some 6 forecasted numbers that you'll see in a few slides in a 7 few minutes.

8 The conventional loan program, as you see,
9 we're in discussions with Genworth Mortgage Insurance.
10 As you may or may not know, most mortgage insurers
11 nationally do offer loan-to-values insured up to 12 97 percent. However, many of them currently in the sand
13 states limit those loan-to-values to 95 percent.

14 Based on market conditions, a few more mortgage
15 insurers are looking at the sand states and increasing 16 the loan-to-values that they now will be insuring; but in 17 many cases, they limit it to counties within the sand
18 states that I just mentioned.

19 In this case, we've been in discussions with 20 Genworth, and they've offered a proposal to offer CalHFA
21 an exclusive arrangement to a loan product that they 22 would ensure up to 97 percent, with no county
23 restrictions. So it's a product that we can offer
24 throughout the state of California.

25 Genworth will make that product, and they're

1 offering to us exclusive and not offer the same mortgage
2 insurance to the private sector throughout the state.
3 So there is an exclusivity that we'll be enjoying with 4 Genworth on this type of arrangement, not only within the 5 state, but within the private sector, not being able to 6 access the same thing that we can as an HFA.

7 Their FICO requirement is 720. That is
8 significantly higher than what our typical borrower's
9 profile is. Our typical borrower's profile for a 10 first-time home buyer has been averaging around 690 or 11 694 recently on the FHA product that we have launched.

12 So the marketing efforts for this product would 13 be slightly different than we've done in the past, mainly 14 because the borrower's requirement of a higher FICO. And 15 we would reach out to perhaps a different profiling
16 borrower that still is mirroring the low- and 17 moderate-income borrower.

18 The other components are straightforward. A
19 borrower would need to put in 3 percent of their own
20 funds on a loan-to-value that's higher than 195 percent,
21 two months' principal and interest reserve for safety.
22 It will include job-loss protection.

23 And in this particular case, the product's not 24 offered through a wholesale channel of the brokerage
25 community. It would strictly be through our lenders that

1 offer a retail channel.

2 We could develop this either by the use of bond
3 financing or through the capital marketplace, in a
4 secondary market, market execution, that would be 5 non-bond specific.

6 MR. SPEARS: Let's see if there are any 7 questions.

8 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: I was going to say, any 9 questions on that so far?

10 CHAIR CAREY: Questions?

11 MR. SPEARS: What we're going to do, we'll talk
12 about all the different products. And then we did have 13 focus groups that Gary and Ken Giebel put together
14 questions and got groups together around the state. And 15 we'll tell you their reaction to these sort of at the end
16 of the presentation.

17 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: Jonathan, it looked like you
18 had a question?

19 MR. HUNTER: Well, I just had a comment, sort
20 of looking at the county-by-county reports in the back
21 of the folder. And when you talk about no county
22 restrictions and you want to have a truly statewide
23 program, it seems to me that part of the improving 24 picture for CalHFA, is that a smaller percentage of our 25 portfolio is in those counties that have the highest

1 rates of foreclosures. And not surprisingly, those are
2 also the counties that have the highest unemployment
3 rates and the biggest hit on property values.

4 So while I understand that we're a statewide
5 program and it's nice to have a statewide product, I
6 think we need to be very careful about -- I think the 7 underwriting needs to take into account not just the 8 individual's FICO score, but the county in which they 9 live, and what's happening county by county around the 10 state.

11 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: That's certainly something we 12 could consider, and restrict the product to counties that 13 we think have more viability.

14 The case could be built that from a statewide
15 scenario, you get market values increasing and 16 unemployment stabilizing. But it's certainly a good
17 point, and certainly something we can incorporate if so 18 chosen.

19 MR. SPEARS: Okay, that's an excellent point.

20 CHAIR CAREY: What's the impact of Genworth's
21 stability, or lack thereof, on this?

22 MR. SPEARS: Well, Genworth is in the same boat 23 that we are. They --

24 CHAIR CAREY: Very much.

25 MR. SPEARS: They need to move -- on a

1 going-forward basis, they need to put new good-performing 2 policies on their books, just like we need to put new 3 good-performing loans on our books.

4 So they're very interested in, you know,
5 getting back into some of these markets; and they see a
6 future in California. They want to do this cautiously.
7 We've been a really good partner with them.

8 Obviously, they're not going to see huge
9 amounts of volume compared to what they do nationally;
10 but we think it's a good partnership. I think it's an 11 excellent sign with regard to everything else we're doing
12 with them.

13 So they're just gradually getting back into 14 this. And the value-add will be, if you will, that we're 15 offering this more affordable product at a higher LTV to 16 people with relatively high FICO scores, which we'll talk
17 again about in a few minutes.

18 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: They did mention before they 19 offer this proposal to us, two things: One is, their 20 risk analysts looked heavily into the California
21 marketplace. They also looked at our delinquency as an 22 HFA compared to the private sector, as well as to the 23 other HFAs that they have across the country.

24 I don't think they would be offering us this
25 product if they felt that the California marketplace

1 statewide was not improving as a state. Though separate
2 of that, our own challenges with our counties, as you
3 mentioned, Jonathan, is certainly something we can 4 consider.

5 But from an insurer's standpoint, looking at a
6 more global picture of the private sector and ourselves
7 as an HFA, they wouldn't necessarily be offering us this 8 product if they didn't feel the strength of California's 9 marketplace warranted something like that.

10 Why they're offering it to us as an HFA is that 11 historically, in the bigger picture, an HFA's
12 delinquencies throughout the state as well as nationally, 13 has been lower than the private sector. So it's 14 something that they've considered not offering to private 15 lenders throughout the state of California, and choosing
16 CalHFA as an optional partner.

17 Okay, any other questions before we move to the 18 next one?

19 MR. SPEARS: Yes, let's go to the MCC. Now,
20 this is something we have not offered before.

21 This is offered at the local level. There are 22 several MCC programs around the state, but they're not 23 common.

24 You do have to apply for CDLAC allocation for 25 this. It is a way for us to use CDLAC allocation that's

1 been allocated to us that we may not be able to use
2 because of the lack of the sale of bonds, like we have in 3 the past. So the question is: All right, so what's the 4 big deal? Why did we think this would work?

5 Well, there is no statewide MCC program. So if 6 you thought about this, this is just dropping down in the 7 state. It will be available around the state to anybody.
8 But what Gary's going to tell you about, is that we're 9 going to make it something unique. A unique aspect of 10 this, to try to attract people to our loans with this 11 together; and then that will be a loan that will be 12 marketable in the secondary market. So we're thinking
13 about this as one of the non-bond-funded programs.

14 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: As Steve mentioned in 15 our focus group -- and we're expecting a survey back in 16 the next couple of days on this particular product that 17 I'll be mentioning -- we reached out to our localities
18 and to the nonprofits. As Steve mentioned, MCCs are 19 often offered throughout the localities throughout the 20 the state. Currently, the State doesn't have an MCC
21 program. And we certainly, before we launch a product
22 like this, although it's under consideration and in 23 development, we'd like to get the feedback from the 24 localities and the municipalities relative to their 25 comfort level of the state offering an MCC.

1 But conceptually, the mortgage credit
2 certificate, we could, as a state housing agency, offer
3 it on a state level and include a processing fee for 4 doing so.

5 As Steve mentioned, we do need to offer it if 6 it's proposed for -- in combination to our first 7 mortgages, we would have to open it up to any lender and 8 any lender's program to pull our MCC to be attachable to 9 their product.

10 The concept is that we could process these MCCs
11 as a streamlined process for about $500 or $600, and 12 charge that for each MCC. The thought was that if our 13 lenders and borrowers chose to use an MCC with our first 14 mortgage product -- an FHA product, for example -- that 15 we would waive that $500 processing fee to allow the 16 lender to be working with a borrower to suggest our 17 product, perhaps over the private sector.

18 The value benefit is, the borrower is not 19 charged the processing fee, the lender can submit both an 20 MCC application and their FHA application to us, and we 21 could do it in a combined package type of environment for 22 a value benefit to the lender, as well as to the 23 borrower.

24 The concept generated is, strictly, if we are 25 finding ourselves in an interest-rate environment where

1 we are flat to the marketplace and if we're offering an 2 FHA loan that is similar in interest rate to what the 3 market can provide, we've lost any value-add for our 4 lenders to use our product versus doing it themselves.

5 Attaching the MCC to our product, if we're at 6 market rate or slightly above or slightly below, we are 7 anticipating that being the value-add for our lender to 8 use choosing our first mortgage FHA product.

9 And, of course, we'll be getting the results
10 back from the survey in a couple of days from the 11 localities and municipalities.

12 Any thoughts or questions on that?

13 MS. CAPPPIO: I have a question.

14 Is this a one-time program? Once you do it,
15 you can't do it again?

16 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: Well, they could do it in a --
17 it has a three-year timeline for their use of applying
18 the 20 percent credit to the interest rate that they've 19 paid.

20 MS. CAPPPIO: Okay.

21 MR. SPEARS: Now, there's another one-time
22 aspect of it, and that is, if we sell bonds and we use
23 CDLAC allocation to do that -- within the first ten 24 years, right, Bruce? -- if someone pays the loan back to 25 us, we loan it back out again. We can get multiple use.

Once you issue a mortgage credit certificate,

MS. CAPPPIO: Done.

MR. SPEARS: -- your allocation, your cap is gone. And that's one of the reasons why we haven't offered it before.

But here, we're in a situation where we may have unused allocations. That would be a shame, frankly.

MS. CAPPPIO: Yes, absolutely.

MR. SPEARS: And so we're just trying to come up with a way to have something that nobody else offers, that would make our FHA loan more attractive, and bring some extra volume.

MS. CAPPPIO: So the timing here -- the strategic -- there's a strategic piece to this, potentially?

MR. SPEARS: Well, it could be an ongoing -- because we get CDLAC allocation every year, so we could get more allocation next year and continue this program in the year, next year, next year.

Or if the bond market improves down the road and we return to as much bond volume as we have in the past, we could move away from this and go back to bonds.

MS. CAPPPIO: Okay.

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 MR. SPEARS: It's something that we could
2 sustain as long as we continue to get CDLAC allocation
3 for it down the road.

4 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: And the key component of it,
5 by offering it MCC, the first mortgage that we would be 6 offering in combination with the MCC would not be 7 financed with bonds.

8 MS. CARROLL: You said that it is not exclusive
9 to CalHFA. So does that mean that other housing
10 agency --

11 MR. SPEARS: Local housing agency --

12 MS. CARROLL: -- or local housing agency can 13 offer --

14 MR. SPEARS: Yes, there are several around the 15 state. They're local. They're in their area.

17 MR. SPEARS: But there is not a statewide
18 program in the state.

19 MS. CARROLL: All right, but the locals can 20 offer this program as well is what you're saying?

21 MR. SPEARS: Right. And they do. And they've 22 gotten allocation.

23 MS. CARROLL: Okay.

24 MR. SPERS: And it's just not widely known.
25 And when we get to the focus groups, we'll talk about

1 that a little bit more. It's a bit of an unusual
2 product. It works for some people if you qualify, but 3 it's not widely used.

4 MS. CARROLL: Thank you.

5 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: An example of that, Katie --
6 just a moment -- is if one of our lenders chooses a
7 locality's MCC program and wishes to use their own
8 first-mortgage product and an MCC through the locality, 9 that's a relationship between the locality and the 10 lender. If they were to use an MCC product that we're 11 offering, they could do that as well. We would process
12 the MCC for a processing fee of $500. They would use it
13 with their own first mortgage.

14 If the lender chose to use our first mortgage
15 FHA product and the MCC product, we would be waiving the 16 processing fee.

17 MR. SPEARS: Okay.

18 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: Okay, moving along.

19 MR. SPEARS: Yes, let's move through this one
20 quickly, and then we'll get to the focus group findings,
21 and then we can go to the volume.

22 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: Okay. This next product is a
23 way for us to offer an exclusive down-payment assistance
24 program without sourcing it through our own funds for 25 the use of bonds. And this is taking advantage of the

1 capital market by our first FHA product being sold in the 2 secondary market, at an interest rate that is slightly
3 above market, which would warrant the capital market to 4 provide us a premium for the sale of that FHA loan. And 5 the premium of that FHA gain on sale would help us source 6 3 percent subordinate down-payment assistance program for 7 the borrower.

8 Somewhat similar for the Board members that
9 have been with us long enough to remember the CHAP
10 program that we had, which was a down-payment assistance
11 program that we offered through our HAT funds -- through 12 internal funds of the Agency. And there was a 3 percent
13 subordinate second with deferred interest. It was very 14 similar to our CHDAP that we have today that is 15 proposition-funded, but it was our own funds.

16 This concept is simply offering that same type
17 of subordinate loan; but instead of using the Agency's 18 funds that, obviously, are limited by having an FHA
19 first-mortgage loan, that's priced just slightly above
20 the market, we can warrant a premium return for that 21 product on the secondary market, and be able to source 22 the funds capable of funding the 3 percent down-payment
23 assistance.

24 By doing that, that down-payment assistance
25 program is not a stand-alone like our current CHDAP

1 stand-alone is. It is exclusive to combining it with our 2 FHA first mortgage. And the combination of the two is 3 sold in the private sector and the capital market.

4 MR. SPEARS: This is the problem we talked
5 about in March, that your premium -- you charge a little
6 bit more on the rate. That attracts -- and an investor
7 will pay a premium for that, we use that premium amount
8 for the down-payment assistance. And it works really
9 well.

10 And not to get ahead of ourselves, but when we 11 went to the focus groups, they liked this product very 12 much. They were not bothered by the premium rate. They 13 liked the built-in down-payment assistance aspect of it.

14 And the good thing for us is that we can use
15 it in a non-bond execution. We can utilize this whenever 16 the bond market doesn't work as well.

17 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: So a lender would view this 18 product -- just quickly, if I may -- from a standpoint
19 from a borrower who can debt-service a slightly higher
20 FHA rate loan and therefore, though, have a lower cash to 21 be able to close for which the down-payment assistance
22 would give them the borrowing funds to be able to close
23 that FHA product.

24 MR. SPEARS: Right. It's another tool to have 25 in the toolbox kind of a thing.

1 So we went out, did some focus groups.

2 Here's really way too much of a summary. But
3 these were hours and hours of questioning folks.

4 The bottom line is that this FHA with the 5 Silent Second, this premium-priced FHA loan was the 6 preferred product, actually.

7 Their comment about the 97 percent, was that -- 8 and the 720 score, by the way, is a requirement by 9 Genworth at this point -- is that that's probably too
10 high. We would not see very much volume.

11 We haven't shared this yet with Genworth
12 because we wanted to talk to you guys about it first.
13 But we plan on going back and saying, "Would you mind
14 reviewing this? This is what we've heard from the 15 field."

16 And if they're not able to do that -- just 17 financially, if their risk managers can't do that, we 18 would probably offer it, but just not expect at this 19 point in time, with the economy the way it is, a lot of 20 volume from that.

21 And then finally -- I mean, the last two 22 things, FHA/MCC combined program, we got a lot of 23 positive comments from the people who knew about MCC
24 programs. The problem is that it's not widely known. So
25 the item there would be, we're going to have to do a

1 little education to make that work. But if we do that,
2 it will probably work well in certain parts of the state,
3 especially where it's not available at the present time.

4 And then finally, the CHDAP program is
5 overwhelmingly popular. Folks really like it.

6 The problem that we're having now is, as we've 7 had to increase our rates -- because some of our rate
8 advantage went away, even with the New Issue Bond
9 Program -- we're getting closer and closer to the market
10 on an FHA loan. So what people are doing now is, you 11 know, a stop at CalHFA, as efficient as we are, is an 12 extra stop in the process. And they're just saying,
13 "Well, I'm just going to use that CHDAP product with my 14 own FHA loan and just put it through." You lose the rate 15 advantage and we lose the CHDAP down payment to the 16 others.

17 So with apologies to Mr. Giebel, that's quite a 18 summary of some very, very hard work that he and Gary put 19 in, going around the state.

20 But that's the bottom line. That's the bottom
21 line. The premium-priced product is number one. We're 22 going to have to talk to Genworth about the 720 FICO
23 score, if the Board is comfortable with having something 24 less than that. And we're going to have to do some 25 education on the MCC product.

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 So any questions about the focus group, folks?

2 MS. CRESWELL: Who did you talk to in the focus
3 groups?

4 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: They are loan officers that 5 were very familiar with CalHFA, long-time supporters, and 6 realtors.

7 MS. CRESWELL: So not local governments?

8 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: We have another survey that's 9 going out to the local governments, that we should get 10 the results back sometime next week. But we're sending 11 it out to all of our localities who have approved loan
12 programs with CalHFA currently.

13 MR. SPEARS: And I'm glad you brought up
14 realtors and who were there, because traditionally we've 15 just worked with our approved group of lenders. We need
16 to do more work with real estate agents and brokers.
17 They don't know enough about our program. And we're 18 going to be reaching out to them in a more focused way.

19 MS. CRESWELL: But also, I think local
20 governments, it's important, particularly on the MCC
21 program, because I understood in years past, there was a 22 tension between the bond allocation between CalHFA and 23 local governments.

24 And so have you talked about that?

25 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: Well, like I said, we have

1 that survey going out tomorrow, directly to all of the 2 other government agencies. And we should get the results
3 back by mid next week.

4 MR. SPEARS: We may get some pushback from some 5 of those programs that we're trying to compete with.
6 We're not. We're trying to drop this down in the state
7 where it's not available. So we may have some -- not 8 fence-mending, but education to do on that. It's 9 possible.

10 But we do have really good partnerships. We 11 have the HPP program, where we partner with hundreds of 12 local governments for their own down-payment assistance
13 already. So it's just a matter of focusing that 14 partnership and educating and maybe expanding it, which 15 we're -- that's the overall.

16 So, quickly --

17 CHAIR CAREY: Steve?

18 MR. SPEARS: I'm sorry.

19 CHAIR CAREY: Excuse me, we've got one more.

20 MS. PETERS: One more question for those of us
21 who aren't as familiar with MCC programs.

22 I was going to ask a question about local 23 governments. What conflicts, or bumps in the road do you
24 anticipate having to smooth over there? Are we directly 25 competing with them? Is our $500 waiver stepping on

1 their toes in any way?

2 MR. SPEARS: It's possible. I mean, they have
3 these programs that are very small and very -- you know,
4 they're scattered around the state.

5 So if somebody comes along and says, "Oh, I
6 like that fee-waiver thing, and I'm going to go with the 7 state's program, not the local program," that could
8 ruffle some feathers, it's possible. We haven't explored
9 that.

10 We have gotten to the point where we've done
11 some basic research on this. We're not ready to go with 12 these things quite yet. We've done the focus groups.
13 We sort of had a pre-kickoff meeting about logistics
14 internally about how we would get this out. If nothing
15 else, there's a lot of computer programming that needs to 16 go on with our loan servicing reservation system. So
17 we're a ways away from that. But it's something I think 18 we'll have to address with them.

19 MS. PETERS: Yes, it's something I'd like to 20 hear more about before we pull the trigger on that.

21 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: Sure.

22 MS. PETERS: Especially in conjunction with our 23 other priorities of building relationships, and 24 restrengthening our relationships with locals and making
25 sure we have a comprehensive housing policy for the

1 state.

2 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: I think there was about eight
3 key questions that were part of the survey that we are 4 sending out tomorrow, that we're expecting the results
5 back by next week. One of them was their view of a state
6 agency offering an MCC statewide program, which is one of 7 the questions.

8 So we're very sensitive to their view of this.
9 Certainly, before we pull the trigger, we would be able 10 to assess the results of that survey that comes back.

11 MS. PETERS: And my other question was going to 12 the Genworth product. In light of the fact that we're 13 predicting somewhere else in the presentation here a
14 home-price decline of another 5 to 10 percent, how much 15 risk do you think we're adding to the Agency here if 16 we're doing 97 percent LTV product and Genworth is on the 17 downgrade?

18 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: Well, Genworth is still 19 insuring it directly, compared to how we worked with them
20 in the past as a reinsurer for the Agency.

21 So they are insuring it as FHA is, but they are 22 a private company.

23 The strength of Genworth is as important as 24 we've mentioned in other parts of our presentation. But 25 they are insuring -- of the product, they are taking the

1 full 100-percent insurance of the mortgage.

2 MR. SPEARS: There's another aspect of it,
3 quickly, Heather, is that it's going to take us a while 4 to get any of these products up and running, and off the 5 ground.

6 I think what we've seen as far as prediction of 7 home prices is that they continue to slide for the next
8 two quarters. That they're bottoming out towards the end
9 of 2011 and on into 2012, you're going to see.

10 So we would begin offering this pretty much at 11 the bottom of the market and that the timing is going to 12 be really important to take a look at.

13 I think it's a very good point. We need to 14 watch this. And if there really are predicted,
15 continued, dramatic decline, it wouldn't be wise to go
16 forward with this because you'd go from 97 to 110, you
17 know, pretty quickly, which we don't want to do.

18 CHAIR CAREY: It's just -- to me, the issue
19 with Genworth is that since we are the insured, right --

20 MR. SPEARS: Yes.

21 CHAIR CAREY: -- then the insurance is only as 22 good as the insurer.

23 MS. PETERS: Right.

24 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: One common thread that we 25 always need to keep in mind, that the business model that

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 we incorporated months ago is an MBS business model. So,
2 you know, real-estate risk does move off of our balance
3 sheet in that business model. And that's a common theme
4 on all of these delivery products to be the same.

5 MS. CARROLL: So we would be selling the 6 mortgages, basically?

7 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: We'd be selling an MBS
8 structure, absolutely.

9 MR. SPEARS: Well, yes, we would. But 10 somebody's going to be taking that risk down the line.

12 MR. SPEARS: We want to --

13 MS. CARROLL: We wouldn't want to be 14 irresponsible and --

15 MR. SPEARS: Exactly. That's my point.

16 But, so -- just quickly, Jonathan -- we'll 17 bring this back at the July meeting and talk about 18 timing, to have a clear idea.

19 MS. PETERS: Yes. My concern is whether it's 20 our risk or not, we want sustainable homeownership.

21 MR. SPEARS: Yes.

22 MR. HUNTER: Well, and my concern about the 23 risk is, it's a little bit of a circular reasoning,
24 because if we put the risk onto Genworth, but then it's a 25 bad risk, and they're more at risk of going under, and if

1 they go under, it hurts our mortgage.

2 So it comes back to bite us one way or another
3 if we put them at greater risk.

4 MR. SPEARS: The ankle bone is connected to the 5 leg bone, and so on and so on.

6 Okay, all right. So just volume-wise -- and 7 it's very difficult to tell. I'm not saying that these 8 are complete shots in the dark. Gary has really spent a 9 lot of time trying to focus on this. And these are the 10 cases you saw in your board binders. But Case A is 11 probably the most likely, the one that Gary feels the 12 most comfortable with.

13 Case B is sort of a worst-case, kind of a --
14 and the most fabulous possibility would be, that the bond
15 market comes roaring back, we do a billion dollars of 16 lending. And I don't think that's very likely. But we 17 will put that out there. And if we did that, we'd be 18 doing CalHFA-issued bonds with FHA loans and some 19 conventional loans at the same time with Genworth.

20 And I just -- that's probably not likely, but,
21 anyway, so -- I'm sorry.

22 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: Just one comment.

23 What you see on the board under MCC, that MCC
24 should be a subset under FHA, because we're not
25 anticipating $178 million of MCC, mortgage credit

1 certificate, in volume. It is an FHA volume number,
2 including a mortgage credit certificate as part of that
3 loan product.

4 MR. SPEARS: Yes, that's $178 million of FHA
5 loans that we got in the door by using the MCC
6 certificate.

7 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: So you are looking at 8 $250 million in Case 1 for FHA loan volume.

9 MR. SPEARS: Right. And then CHDAP and School
10 Facility Fees, down-payment assistance, I would be 11 willing to go out on a limb and say, "We're probably more
12 certain about the use of these loans because we have a 13 lot of track record on that.

14 So you're going to see, a most likely case,
15 about $500 million of lending first-time homebuyer first 16 mortgages, and about $37 million in down-payment
17 assistance.

18 And I think that's it. Yes, right.

19 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: Any final questions?

20 (No response)

21 MR. SPEARS: All right, thank you, Gary.

22 MR. BRAUNSTEIN: You're welcome.

23 CHAIR CAREY: We're going to need to take a
24 break for a few minutes at some point.

25 So is this a reasonable place to do it, folks?

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 MS. PETERS: I was just thinking the same
2 thing.

3 CHAIR CAREY: Okay, ten minutes.

4 And then I know this is tough, folks, but we're 5 going to have to power through.

6 MR. SPEARS: Thanks.

7 (Recess from 11:51 a.m. to 12:05 p.m.)

8 CHAIR CAREY: Okay, we are back in session, and 9 we are going to move the agenda.

10 MR. SPEARS: Mr. Chairman, I'd ask that the 11 Board members turn to page 20 of their handouts of the 12 slide presentation, just to make a couple of points.
13 We've already spent a lot of time talking about the 14 single-family portfolio.

15 Our objective in the next two fiscal years is 16 to really ramp up loan modifications to the greatest 17 extent possible.

18 Obviously, we can lead the horse to water, we 19 cannot force borrowers to take loan modifications; but we 20 really are going to try to ramp up outreach and utilize 21 both our loan-modification program, in combination with 22 Keep Your Home California.

23 Our main objective there is to try to increase
24 sustainability of those modifications from about 25 60 percent, up to 75.

1 In loan-servicing administration, we have open
2 hours -- expanded hours, that is -- to later in the night
3 and weekends. And we're going to even expand it beyond
4 that, to the extent we can, with personnel, assuming we 5 can fill vacancies and do that.

6 And then finally, on the REO front, we're going 7 to try to reduce the holding times and move forward and 8 faster if the market allows us to do that. But it's very 9 market-driven in that area. And we're going to do the 10 best we can.

11 So sorry to race through that part.

12 Any question on this aspect of what we're 13 doing?

14 (No response)

15 MR. SPEARS: It's very key, and we're very,
16 very focused on this part of the operations.

17 Okay, then on the Multifamily side, if you
18 could turn to page 23, that looks like this side-by-side
19 that we have here.

20 I would lead in with a couple of comments.

21 In the past -- what you see on the left is 22 Multifamily III bond indenture. And we would issue
23 bonds -- we do all the underwriting, loan servicing,
24 asset management, we're the issuer, and we bring those 25 loans onto our portfolio, and they're ours. Margaret

1 takes care of them after that in the Asset Management
2 division. But there are other options for us.

3 What results in the first column, under the 4 Multifamily III indenture, where most of those loans are,
5 we get an annuity. We get a spread between the cost of 6 our bonds and the interest that they would charge. And 7 that annuity comes into the Agency over the life of the 8 loan. That's been our past.

9 And so these other alternatives -- one, is that 10 we simply are the issuer of bonds and someone else is the 11 lender. We issue the bonds, the proceeds go to the 12 lender, they loan them out, we get a fee. End of story.
13 We don't underwrite the loans. We don't service them.
14 Margaret doesn't see them in Asset Management. We earn a 15 fee, and off we go.

16 This is what we've been doing with the proceeds
17 of the New Issue Bond Program over the last year. We're 18 going to do round $200 million of this, or maybe more, 19 and --

20 MR. DEANER: $290 million.

21 MR. SPEARS: $290 million of conduit lending.

22 In the long run, it's not the best alternative
23 from a mission standpoint, I don't believe, or from just 24 an economic standpoint. Because we get the one-time fee;
25 we don't get an annuity. So what we're trying to do is

1 look at some other alternatives here.

2 I'm going to turn it over to Bob to talk about
3 the last three columns, to kind of summarize what we're
4 talking about. But the ask is this: That we move
5 forward with the development of these products, with 6 these other partners: The Federal Home Loan Bank, FHA,
7 and both Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac are involved in the 8 last column. Move forward with the development of those 9 products and implementation. That's our ask in today's 10 business plan.

11 So I'll turn it over to Bob.

12 MR. DEANER: I won't go over the conduit.
13 We've talked about that many times.

14 The Federal Home Loan Bank is a relatively new 15 concept. Actually, we're meeting with some folks next 16 week to discuss it, to see if it will work.

17 But how the program would really work is, we 18 would utilize their balance sheet. They would put a 19 letter of credit up against the bonds so we don't have 20 our credit on the bonds for a period of time. And 21 there's a couple ways to do it: You could do it straight
22 as a construction lender, or you could do a construction
23 lender and perm, or I could be the construction lender
24 and you have somebody else on the perm. But in the end,
25 because we are a member with the Federal Home Loan Bank,

1 we could utilize their balance sheet as a letter of 2 credit for any of those scenarios. And we get to 3 underwrite, loan service, asset management, and be the 4 issue of the bonds.

5 The fees aren't the same as if we were the 6 direct lender. We do get some one-time fees and some 7 ongoing fees, but they're not as rich. But they do give 8 us the ability to fully underwrite our transactions as 9 we have in the past. It makes some fee and spread
10 income.

11 The next is the FHA Risk Share program. We've 12 had that for years and years and years. We used to lend
13 on that in the eighties. We got away from it, utilizing
14 our own credit. But it is a risk share. It's a 50-50
15 risk share. It would take a little bit of capital from 16 the Agency if we went down that route.

17 The start point of that would be our portfolio.
18 We have an aging portfolio that Steve had mentioned
19 earlier.

20 We had a preservation program that we used for 21 years, where we would allow new borrowers to buy those 22 projects. And we would finance it, and we would get 23 extended affordability, rehab, or deeper affordability in 24 those programs. So we would probably target that first 25 towards the portfolio, and that would get us back to a

1 full spread to the Agency.

2 There's a number of projects in the next five
3 years that could utilize that program; but, again, it's a
4 case of looking at that risk share and working with 5 Claudia, Steve, and Bruce on where we are from a capital
6 standpoint to make that happen.

7 And then the last is the GSE-supported.
8 There's really two to three options there.

9 I'm a previous Fannie Mae/Freddie Mac lender.
10 I did it for 15 years. I know their programs, I know
11 their language, I speak their speak on the Multifamily
12 side.

13 Freddie Mac is looking through FHFA, the 14 overseer of doing a new potential license called "Duty to 15 Serve" of which they want to preserve affordable housing
16 throughout the country. And for us, it would be for 17 California.

18 I've talked to them about applying for that 19 license when they get final regulation. And that would 20 be 100 percent preservation deals within California. It
21 would be a great fit for us.

22 We met with them in D.C. in December; and they 23 think it's a great fit for them. It's a question of when 24 the regulations are final. And we can go through the 25 steps of obtaining that.

1 The second is, we do a third-party underwriting
2 for either Fannie or Freddie. And I've talked to a
3 Freddie DUS lender that has a DUS license to do
4 multifamily where they don't have a big Fannie Mae shop
5 in California and would like to utilize CalHFA to kind of 6 help them originate deals.

7 We underwrite, submit it to them; but we're
8 really renting their balance sheet via their DUS license
9 with Fannie Mae. And again, we can modify our 10 underwriting to that criteria because of the background
11 that I came from.

12 So those are the options over the next
13 12 months as we finalize our other programs Steve 14 mentioned earlier that we're going to look to try to 15 implement.

16 MR. SPEARS: Any questions?

17 MR. GUNNING: Bob, are you nervous at all about 18 the future of Fannie and Freddie?

19 MR. DEANER: Not from the multifamily program.

20 What I've heard from the folks that I know --
21 because I used to be on some of their committees, and so
22 I still know quite a few folks there -- what we've heard
23 is, if they wind them down, they'll split them into two 24 groups. They'll have a multifamily house and then decide
25 what they're going to do on the homeownership side.

1 And what I've heard is, they want to keep the 2 multifamily house, because that portfolio is performing 3 well, and it makes them quite a bit of income. So they 4 don't really want to step away from that, it's just how 5 do they carve themselves out of it, which I think would 6 be a benefit for CalHFA because we could then partner
7 with them, if they decide to carve that out. And maybe 8 they could look at, "Well, your CalHFA in California, an 9 HFA, you could help us out there to make that work." So
10 I think that would be a benefit to CalHFA.

11 MR. GUNNING: You seem more enthused about this 12 version than the other two.

13 MR. DEANER: Yes, well, it's also part of my 14 background. I did it for 15 years, and so I know their 15 language, and they're still AAA-rated. So they've got 16 the backing of the federal government; and if you can 17 stay AAA-rated, you're going to get the best pricing, so
18 you're going to be able get deals done.

19 The lower your rating goes, as Steve had 20 mentioned earlier, the pricing goes higher. It makes it
21 tougher for deals to work on their cash flow.

22 So going the GSE route, some type of 23 partnership there, would be very beneficial to us.

24 MS. CRESWELL: Can I ask on your preservation
25 program -- I'm sorry.

1 CHAIR CAREY: Go ahead.

2 MS. CRESWELL: On your preservation program, is 3 that for your stock?

4 MR. DEANER: Well, we would start with our
5 stock, yes, because we have an aging portfolio that we do
6 have some projects through our preservation program that 7 we did in the past, that sellers would like to sell, and 8 we have buyers that like to buy, and keep them
9 100 percent affordable.

10 And when we do our program, we get either
11 extended affordability, deep affordability, or rehab.
12 And we always get two of the three. It's usually 13 extended and rehab.

14 And then we get a new borrower that, I think,
15 is a little more enthusiastic to keep things going.

16 MS. CRESWELL: Do you know how much of sort of 17 your portfolio includes either TCACs or HCDs? Because 18 it's a big issue as we're looking in our portfolio about 19 how we maintain that.

20 MR. DEANER: Yes, I'd have to, on that, defer
21 to Margaret to say what portions we'd have.

22 I know probably our older stuff, I don't know,
23 my guess would be half or more.

24 MS. ALVAREZ: No, I don't think half.

25 MR. DEANER: You don't think it's that much?

1 MS. ALVAREZ: You're talking older that would
2 need rehab?

3 MS. CRESWELL: Well, and the current sponsors
4 are trying to figure out how they both preserve the 5 affordability and maintain the unit.

6 So I'm just wondering if there's a way to be,
7 as you're thinking on developing that, to be thinking
8 about the other state-assisted projects that need help.

9 MR. DEANER: That's a good question. And I
10 have talked to part of the preservation -- I have talked 11 to Kelly Boyer, the director of HUD of LA, and they have 12 an aging portfolio. And they have over 400 loans in 13 their portfolio that I'm currently talking to her about 14 somehow preserving those loans. So that would also be 15 part of it.

16 So it is a reach-out outside of our portfolio.
17 But when I say "start with ours," it's because it takes 18 the least amount of capital to start.

19 MS. CRESWELL: Right.

20 MR. DEANER: See how we do and then we can 21 build it from there.

22 MS. CRESWELL: But I'm hoping you would reach
23 out to your state partners.

24 MR. DEANER: Yes. Yes, we would.

25 MR. SPEARS: Absolutely.

1 MR. DEANER: Everybody's on the list.

2 MS. CRESWELL: Okay, just because I haven't got 3 that phone call yet, so...

4 MR. SPEARS: Well, we didn't want to get ahead
5 of the Board.

6 MR. DEANER: I can call you at ten after 1:00.

7 MS. CRESWELL: Great.

8 CHAIR CAREY: I'd like to think so.

9 MS. PETERS: I have a question on the risk
10 share. What capital requirements would be on us there?

11 MR. DEANER: Well, there's two ways of looking 12 at it. It depends on the volume of level I did.

13 So I'll give you an example. If I did
14 $100 million worth of loans, typically, the rating
15 agencies would want to see a 10 percent capital charge
16 and that would be $10 million of equity. But part of 17 that's going to be washed out, so if I'm doing portfolio
18 loans that already have what we call a haircut on them,
19 so there might already be capital there for those loans.
20 And if I'm refreshing those loans and I'm probably adding 21 a little bit of loan volume to them, the net-net might 22 be that I only need six or seven million, because I'm 23 going to have some capital that was already there, I'm 24 making a new loan that's a little larger, and so you're 25 going to refresh that. But you're going to reduce -- you

1 may reduce some of that.

2 So it wouldn't be a full. If I'm doing outside
3 of the portfolio, new loans, I need a fresh $10 million,
4 it would be less than that. It might be, you know, five,
5 six million. It depends on how much I add on to each
6 loan for rehab, and then --

7 MR. SPEARS: And it also depends on the split.
8 Historically, it's been 50-50.

9 MR. DEANER: Yes, historically it's been 50-50.

10 MR. SPEARS: And they go to as much as 90-10 --
11 90 to them, 10 to us.

12 MR. DEANER: Yes, we are exploring talking to 13 them about exploring a 90-10 split, where they take 90
14 and we take 10. So that's also an ask that I've been 15 talking to them about.

16 MS. PETERS: Now, is that also something that, 17 given all our new oversight focus and resolutions, that 18 we would hear again before you undertook a capital
19 charge? Or is that --

20 MR. SPEARS: If that's the Board's --

21 MS. PETERS: -- within the threshold of the 22 day-to-day operation that wouldn't rise to the level of 23 us needing to see it again?

24 MR. SPEARS: That's an interesting question
25 because if we move forward, it's the same risk profile as

1 we've done before, 50-50.

2 The question on that would be, maybe we don't 3 have enough capital with that.

4 If we go to 90-10, that's less risk. That's 5 not what the BSA was worried about. So I guess that's 6 our ask today.

7 And what we'd like to do is move forward with 8 all three of these, develop them, implement them as part
9 of the business plan.

10 If it's the Board's wish, we'll bring back
11 whatever aspects of this plan that you like and explore
12 it further.

13 MS. PETERS: My own comments on that would be 14 that given that, harkening back to the day when we were 15 doing lending in substantial volumes and looking at a lot
16 of these rehab loans, there was a lot of back and forth
17 on the Board about just sort of policy and where we 18 wanted to go with that. So I would like to have a 19 conversation about it again. I don't know how the rest
20 of the Board feels.

21 MS. CARROLL: I would second that.

22 And given that we've been so concerned about 23 liquidity of the Agency, I'd just like to understand what 24 we're giving up, so to speak.

25 MS. PETERS: Yes, and I'd also echo Cathy's

1 comments about giving a preference to, you know, other
2 state agencies that are also on the mission of trying to 3 preserve existing loans.

4 MR. DEANER: Yes, I think our plan is to move
5 forward under that we're going to try to utilize zero
6 capital; but if we find, you know, to lend it to preserve
7 deals and we need to use some, I would believe -- we 8 would bring that back and say -- you know, I'd want Bruce 9 to tell me what's a number that we could utilize that we 10 feel is okay, and then to go from there. Because I then 11 have to do projections based on that number, and say,
12 "Okay, how many deals can I do based on that number?"

13 MR. SPEARS: And the driver is the 14 rating-agency model for how much capital adequacy.

15 MS. PETERS: Right. And I certainly don't want
16 to hamstring you where you have to come back for minimal 17 capital charges. But, on the other hand, in light of the 18 recent changes in our level of oversight, if it's a 19 significant change, I'd like to have a conversation about 20 that.

21 CHAIR CAREY: What's the time frame for 22 developing this?

23 MR. DEANER: Well, I'd say for -- well, the 24 risk share really is just a question of when we think we 25 can do it, because we already have the agreement. It's

1 in our hands. We have a 50-50 today.

2 It's a question internally: Do we want to move
3 it to 90-10? And when do we feel comfortable where we 4 are, even level, that we could provide a little bit of 5 capital to do the risk share?

6 If the question for the next six to 12 months
7 is not, then I'd put more emphasis on the GSE
8 partnership, the Federal Home Loan Bank, and the conduit,
9 and then wait to see where we flesh out in the next 12 to 10 18 months on the risk share.

11 Because there's really four programs I'm 12 looking to move forward. Only one would take a portion
13 of potential capital. And so if we internally felt -- 14 when I say "internally," Claudia, Steve, Bruce and 15 myself -- that it's not supported there, even if it's a 16 little bit, then I'm moving forward with all four, we 17 just put that one lower down on the list, until we feel 18 more comfortable.

19 CHAIR CAREY: So is it safe to say that it
20 would come back before a decision was made to commit a
21 significant amount of capital to that lending program?

22 MR. DEANER: Oh, absolutely, yes.

23 MR. SPEARS: Absolutely.

24 In the meantime, we have the New Issue Bond
25 Program to keep working on --

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 CHAIR CAREY: Sure.

2 MR. SPEARS: -- capital that we can use there,
3 and also the MHSA program still rolls along, so..

4 CHAIR CAREY: I mean, the program is okay. I'm 5 just hearing folks concerned about capital.

6 MR. DEANER: Oh, absolutely. If we made an 7 internal decision that we had a little bit to utilize,
8 I would fully bring the program and how it would work
9 back to the Board, absolutely.

10 MR. SPEARS: And also just for the newer Board
11 members -- you probably haven't seen these in a while -- 12 but you are the loan committee for the larger of these 13 loans.

14 So loan by loan, these would come back to you
15 for your review -- the larger ones. And several of those 16 would be large, even the ones that are on our portfolio.

17 Okay, good. Thank you.

18 So what I wanted Margaret to do, is to give you
19 a quick update on the Performance-Based Contract
20 Administration proposal that we turned in the response to 21 the HUD RFP.

22 And, Margaret?

23 MS. ALVAREZ: Well, we won't know the final
24 answer until July 1st or thereabouts, if we were selected
25 or not. But we know that our bid package was accepted,

1 we know that they said our legal opinion of whether we
2 could do that job or not was approved; and we know that 3 our references were called. So that's the only part we 4 know, and the rest is just stay tuned for July, and keep 5 your fingers crossed.

6 We're hoping for the best. We did a very good
7 proposal. I'm very proud of my group and what we turned 8 in.

9 MS. PETERS: What's our competition in that?

10 Do we know?

11 MS. ALVAREZ: No.

12 MR. SPEARS: What we've seen before, is that 13 even other state HFAs applied, and so there may be 14 another state HFA who is applying to do this work in 15 California. But they're a private contractor.

16 MS. ALVAREZ: Yes, I would assume that the 17 other HFAs, some of them applied, and probably any number
18 of local housing authority types probably also applied.

19 MR. SPEARS: Obviously -- I'm sorry, go ahead.

20 MS. ALVAREZ: And there are two current PBCAs
21 we know applied.

22 MR. SPEARS: Right. And just to refresh your 23 memory, there's one contract administrator in the 24 northern part of the state, and another in the southern 25 part of the state.

1 Obviously, from a policy standpoint, we think
2 the contract administrator ought to be a California
3 entity. And also, there ought to be one statewide, so
4 you have consistent administration throughout the state.
5 But we're not assured that HUD will agree with that 6 philosophy; but that's our story and we're sticking to 7 it. And it's a good, solid front policy, we think.

8 CHAIR CAREY: Good.

9 MR. SPEARS: All right, so one last slide with 10 regard to ongoing strategic initiatives.

11 I'll just focus on two.

12 The Homeownership Loan Origination system
13 that's been in the works for a while, this is a huge 14 project that will make an enormous difference in our 15 ability to provide service to our lenders and borrowers
16 who are applying, and be able to manage our pipeline
17 better.

18 We're looking to launch that in the third
19 calendar quarter of 2011. And that would be the fall,
20 to December. So we're really working very hard on that.
21 A lot of energy and staff time put into that.

22 And the other is, we really need to get the 23 next phase of the Fiscal Services project. That is our 24 management and financial and accounting information
25 system. We've talked before, we're in kind of the dark

1 ages there, and we need to get into the modern times to 2 be more timely, better information.

3 It's difficult for staff to put together really 4 important reports that we need at the executive level to 5 try to manage the place. We're looking to do that.

6 And then, Claudia, I don't know if you want to 7 talk about the last bullet there, about, you know, we are 8 going to try to emphasize working with other partners
9 within the state and the local as well.

10 MS. CAPPPIO: Yes, just it makes a lot of sense
11 to collaborate and coordinate as much as we can.

12 A good example came up a few minutes ago about 13 portfolios and our ability to coordinate at least the 14 tracking and data of them. So I look forward to doing
15 that with my housing partners in the state.

16 MR. SPEARS: Thank you.

17 Well, with that, if there are other questions,
18 we'd be happy to answer those.

19 There is a resolution. Just for clarification,
20 the resolution, you adopt the business plan. The 21 presentations, both that were in your binder plus what 22 was presented today, plus the comments and the written 23 testimony, will comprise the business plan for the day.

24 And with those presentations and the comments
25 today, we'll put together a written work product that

1 will be distributed in June to all of you that we've done
2 in the last couple of years, and distribute that once
3 we've taken up this resolution.

4 MS. PETERS: Tom, do you feel that the language
5 in the resolution is broad enough to capture the fact
6 that the Board would like to see the MCC, Genworth, and 7 FHA risk-share back before it was implemented?

8 MR. HUGHES: Well, the intent was, as Steve 9 said, is to capture the comments of the Board. We can 10 certainly write it in there.

11 As a practical matter, what we do is we get the 12 verbatim transcript and we try and figure out what the 13 Board said. And that's not always simple because people
14 say different things. And so even, you can see with the 15 last one, we struggled for a long time to try and get a 16 consensus because individual Board members stated their 17 view.

18 And so what we try to do then is summarize
19 those in later documents. We can put it in. We can do
20 it any way you'd like.

21 CHAIR CAREY: Wouldn't it be reasonable to make 22 that statement as part of the motion that adopts the 23 resolution?

24 MS. PETERS: Yes, I was just asking him before
25 we started with a motion. I didn't want to move to

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 change something before we had a conversation about this.

2 CHAIR CAREY: So we wouldn't have to amend the 3 resolution, but the motion itself could contain the 4 language, if you want?

5 MR. HUGHES: We could certainly do that.

6 I think that's more or less what we did the 7 last time, too.

8 MS. CARROLL: I have one other question on 3.
9 And I understand why three is in there in terms of 10 responding on a day-to-day basis to changes. But 11 shouldn't be we subject that our resolution 11-06, which 12 has the new restrictions that the Board is placing, so we 13 shouldn't go beyond those in terms of giving latitude to 14 the Agency, to the executive director?

15 MR. HUGHES: We could certainly do that, handle
16 it however you'd like. That's perfectly fine, if you
17 want to write that up.

18 CHAIR CAREY: We could simply add that to the 19 end of the third bullet there.

20 MS. CARROLL: It's very simple. Yes.

21 CHAIR CAREY: Subject to the terms of
22 Resolution 11-06.

23 MR. HUGHES: I think this just basically tracks
24 the prior one.

25 MS. CARROLL: To the extent that -- I think

1 that's a good point. And any other resolutions that have
2 it.

3 MR. HUGHES: Just to be clear, is the 4 suggestion that prior to the word "the" in the second 5 line, we add the provision, "subject to the provisions of 6 Resolution 11-06"?

7 MS. PETERS: Yes, "and any prior applicable
8 resolutions."

9 We were just having a sidebar here, wondering
10 if we had the financing resolutions that narrowed 11 authority, we had prior resolutions about net increase in 12 risk. Now we have 11-06, just to make sure that it can't 13 be read that this adoption of the business plan
14 resolution in any way expands authority beyond what's 15 already been limited in prior resolutions.

16 MR. HUGHES: We can do that.

17 I think the financing resolution simply omitted
18 broad language as opposed to putting a restriction is my 19 recollection. But, yes, we can add that.

20 It becomes difficult at some point to figure
21 out what you have the authority to do.

22 MS. PETERS: Right, that's what I'm wondering.

23 MR. HUGHES: And then it doesn't do any good to 24 have a delegation of authority if you can't use it.

25 So the more specific, the better, I think. But

1 I think everyone understands what the general
2 restrictions are.

3 MS. PETERS: Right. The prior restrictions are 4 what they are. And I wouldn't want to, by this, give an 5 implication that we're expanding beyond what we've 6 already decided. And I don't know how to precisely state
7 that.

8 MS. CARROLL: I believe 11-06, though, does 9 expressly state that you'll come back with anything new 10 in terms of financing.

11 CHAIR CAREY: 11-06 is pretty --

12 MS. CARROLL: It's pretty restrictive, so that 13 might --

14 CHAIR CAREY: Are you comfortable with that?

15 MS. PETERS: Yes.

16 CHAIR CAREY: Just the specific reference to 17 11-06?

18 Would someone like to make a motion?

19 MS. PETERS: (Raising hand.)

20 CHAIR CAREY: I'm waiting.

21 MR. GUNNING: I'll move it.

22 MS. PETERS: Do you want to move the --

23 MR. GUNNING: No, I'll do as you want to add
24 it.

25 MS. PETERS: Move adoption of resolution of

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 11-07, with the addition that staff agrees to come back
2 to the Board prior to implementation of the MCC,
3 Genworth, and FHA risk-share programs; and that the final
4 paragraph, No. 3 in the resolution, add that it is
5 subject to the restrictions of the previously passed
6 Resolution 11-06.

7 MR. GUNNING: Second.

8 CHAIR CAREY: Any further discussion?

9 (No response)

10 CHAIR CAREY: Roll call, please.

11 MS. PETERS: Public comment.

12 CHAIR CAREY: I'm sorry, thank you.

13 I even wrote it on my agenda.

14 MR. GUNNING: You beat Tom to it.

15 CHAIR CAREY: This is an opportunity for the 16 public to comment on this action.

17 If there's anyone that would like to speak
18 specifically to this, please indicate.

19 (No response)

20 CHAIR CAREY: Seeing none, we'll have a roll
21 call.

23 Ms. Creswell?

25 MS. OJIMA: Mr. Gunning?

2 MS. OJIMA: Mr. Hunter?

3 MR. HUNTER: Yes.

4 MS. OJIMA: Ms. Carroll?

6 MS. OJIMA: Mr. Smith?

8 MS. OJIMA: Ms. Peters?

11 CHAIR CAREY: Yes.

12 MS. OJIMA: Resolution 11-07 has been approved
13 with the additional language attached.

14 CHAIR CAREY: Thank you.

15 --oOo--

16 Item 8. Discussion, recommendation, and possible
17 action regarding the adoption of a resolution
18 approving the Fiscal Year 2011/2012 CalHFA
19 Operating Budget

20 CHAIR CAREY: We're now on to Item 8, which is 21 the operating budget.

22 MR. SPEARS: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

23 Obviously, this operating budget is linked to 24 the business plan that you just approved. So we tried to 25 summarize this. First of all, as we've done in the past,

1 give you a little bit of an idea of how we think this
2 year will wind up.

3 The approved budget for last year was 4 $48.3 million. The projected actual expenditures are 5 $44.5 million. That $44.5 million includes, however,
6 this new requirement that we include future pension costs
7 as a budgeted item. Obviously, that's not cash out of 8 our pocket right this second. But the Governmental 9 Accounting Board in its infinite wisdom has us put that 10 in the budget these days.

11 So net of that extra cost is $41.9 million,
12 $6.4 million under the budget that was adopted. Because 13 that $48.3 million budget doesn't have any of that future
14 pension cost stuff in there.

15 So I think this kind of sets it up to talk
16 about; you know, why were we $6.4 million under. We 17 spent $3.3 million less on strategic projects. Part of 18 that, it was interrupted by the move, and we put some 19 things off. And so it's just moving costs from one year
20 to the next, frankly.

21 $1.7 million in lower outside contracts. A lot
22 of that's legal costs.

23 In the past, we've gotten, in a little -- not 24 hot water, but we've had legal costs come up in the 25 middle of the year.

1 And so what Tom tries to do in his budget, is
2 budget for the use of outside lawyers and consultants.
3 And we had a lot less of that last year than we thought.

4 $1.4 million in lower personnel costs, as it
5 translates into. We didn't fill as many vacancies and 6 use as many permanent positions as we thought we would.
7 We, instead, used temporary help. And we'll be reversing
8 that trend this year.

9 $400,000 less in other operating costs, and 10 various things.

11 And there was $400 million -- I'm sorry,
12 $400,000 less in Keep Your Home California reimbursement.
13 That's the federal program that uses, you know, staff and 14 that sort of thing. We asked for reimbursement.

15 We thought we knew how that was going to work,
16 and it turned out that we didn't use as much staff and 17 internal costs, and so we had less reimbursement than we 18 thought.

19 So that accounts for the $6 million being under 20 budget.

21 Any questions about that before we go on to 22 what we're proposing for the next year? Because it's a
23 little different.

24 (No response)

25 MR. SPEARS: So we're proposing a $50 million

1 budget. That includes -- I'm trying to remember --
2 $2.7 million for outside costs.

3 If you back that out, this budget is actually 4 less than the one we proposed last year, you know, but 5 for those costs. But it's made up of, as in the past,
6 mostly personnel costs, $34 million, $12 million of 7 general operating expenses.

8 We are planning to get reimbursed from Keep 9 Your Home for $800,000, and we're going to spend about 10 $4.7 million, mostly to finish up the homeownership
11 project and get started on the Fiscal Services project.
12 So that's the proposed budget.

13 The detail is in the back, it's on page 209 of 14 your binders, if you want a little more detail and some 15 comparison with prior budgets and prior costs.

16 I think the most important thing is that this 17 is 5.6 more than we actually project spending for this 18 current fiscal year. So I thought I'd go through and 19 break that down.

20 It's $2 million more in personnel costs over 21 what we actually spent this year. Most of that is 22 filling vacancies, but it's also promotions, backfilling
23 retirements.

24 The major problem there, that we're having now, 25 is that a lot of the issues that we thought were

1 temporary, that we could solve with temporary help, are 2 more permanent in nature and ongoing, and don't have as 3 finite into them as we'd like.

4 The other is that in the last four weeks, we've 5 lost the temp employees from loan servicing, our critical
6 area, to a new operation that Bank of America is opening
7 in Rancho Cordova, a loan servicing center out there. So
8 as the economy improves, we're losing the ability to just 9 get temporary help that's qualified at-will. And we've 10 had that luxury for the last...

11 So we're going to -- this $2 million cost 12 includes the cost of filling 27 of 42 vacancies in the 13 next fiscal year. And so that's the personnel cost.

14 $1.4 million in outside contracts. And here
15 again, most of that is working with Tom to try and put in 16 a contingency for outside legal costs, for things like
17 the Lehman Brothers litigation or procedure.

18 The facilities costs, the lease costs for the 19 new building is going to go up, and that's because the 20 free-rent period that we negotiated with the lease will 21 expire in August. And so it will go up over what we 22 actually had last year.

23 A little bit more than we actually spent on 24 strategic projects last year. $400,000 in I.T. costs.
25 Most of that is for infrastructure upgrades, security,

1 and that sort of thing. Privacy protection is for most 2 of that.

3 And then finally, a $300,000 increase in other
4 operating costs for various items, which we can comment
5 on if you like. So that's it in a nutshell.

6 We have more slides with more detail.

7 Any questions before we get going?

8 MS. PETERS: No, not really a question. Just 9 a comment, that I'm glad to see you converting those 10 positions to permanent in the servicing area, because 11 the recent consent decrees that were signed by the major
12 servicers with the federal regulators are requiring them
13 to have a single point of contact --

14 MR. SPEARS: Right.

15 MS. PETERS: -- and beef up their own internal 16 servicing quite a bit beyond what they've been doing.
17 So I think you're going to see a lot of bleed in there if 18 you don't sweeten the pot for those employees.

19 MR. SPEARS: Right. And we don't -- it
20 dovetails with another strategy that we've talked about 21 before, and that is, we want to be servicing more of our 22 own loans as we make more homeownership loans out into 23 the future for mission reasons, for economic reasons.

24 And so what I would anticipate is that as we 25 begin to work through our portfolio -- our problem

1 children on the portfolio, if you will -- that, as we
2 bring more loans on, then those folks would start to work
3 on the new loans that we're bringing in-house. And it's 4 still a strategy, it's a couple years away. But we're 5 hoping that this will dovetail there nicely.

6 MR. IWATA: We've held exams currently right
7 now for the homeownership associates and specialists. So
8 a lot of people that were on the temporary right now is 9 trying to get on perm. So they're on the list to be 10 picked up, so they're getting ready.

11 MR. SPEARS: This slide just shows where the 12 positions are going to be. And there, too -- and I'm 13 not sure if you can see all this -- but the portfolio
14 management is the tall tower here and then the -- where 15 did loan servicing go?

16 Loan servicing is over there.

17 I mean, we had 25 people doing this three years
18 ago. We now have a hundred, if you include a lot of the 19 folks in Fiscal Services who are now processing, doing
20 back office work on REO invoices, and loan modifications
21 take a lot of accounting work to get done, because our 22 systems are not built to change loans in the middle of 23 the stream. So it's really a reallocation.

24 And I think the most important thing to 25 remember about our operations is that we are now doing

1 way more than we ever were doing before, because we're
2 doing all the loan servicing and working with the loan
3 modifications in the existing portfolio, and we've had 4 expanded hours. Plus, we're also doing new lending at 5 the same time.

6 So it requires more staff than you would think.
7 And that's just the nature of our work.

8 Any questions?

9 CHAIR CAREY: Any questions? Comments?

10 MR. SPEARS: We have lots more slides in 11 detail, if you'd like.

12 MR. HUNTER: I would just comment that, you
13 know, assuming nothing drastic happens in June that's not 14 projected in the projection, we've got two years where 15 the staff has managed to come within 7 to 9 percent of 16 the budget. And being under budget, I think that's an 17 indication of pretty accurate budgeting and also pretty 18 effective management of costs of the budget over time.

19 MR. SPEARS: Thank you, sir.

20 CHAIR CAREY: Do we have a resolution?

21 MR. HUNTER: Yes, we do.

22 I would move adoption of the resolution
23 approving the budgets.

24 MS. CRESWELL: Second.

25 CHAIR CAREY: Moved and seconded.

CalHFA Board of Directors Meeting – May 19, 2011

1 MS. OJIMA: Who seconded?

2 CHAIR CAREY: Ms. Creswell.

3 This is an opportunity for public comment.

4 If there is anyone who would like to speak to 5 the Board on this matter, please indicate.

6 (No response)

7 CHAIR CAREY: Seeing none --

8 MR. REYES: Do we have a hand way in the back?

9 AUDIENCE MEMBER: I'm sorry, I was just 10 stretching.

11 CHAIR CAREY: Seeing none, roll call, please.

12 MS. OJIMA: Thank you.

13 Ms. Creswell?

14 MS. CRESWELL: Yes.

15 MS. OJIMA: Mr. Gunning?

16 MR. GUNNING: Yes.

4 Item 9. Reports

5 CHAIR CAREY: Are there items in the reports
6 that any Board members have questions or thoughts about 7 or would like more information?

8 (No response)

9 CHAIR CAREY: No? Okay.

10 I'm going to juggle the agenda just slightly 11 and move the public testimony to this point in the 12 agenda.

13 --o0o--

14 Item 11. Public testimony

15 CHAIR CAREY: This is an opportunity for anyone
16 in the public to address the Board, recognizing that the 17 Board cannot act on anything that is not agenda'd but is 18 open to public comments at this point.

19 I do have a speaker's slip from one speaker.
20 So I'd ask that Jeanne LeDuc come up and be the first.

21 MS. LeDUC: Good morning.

22 You had some pretty high-level discussions
23 here, and I guess I'm here to ground it a little bit in 24 the personal, in personnel.

25 My name is Jeanne LeDuc, and I'm here to inform

1 the Board and the new executive director about some
2 rather startling information I've recently discovered.

3 As you may know, I have been involved in a
4 protracted appeal of a rejection during probation from 5 your Agency.

6 After the first administrative law judge found
7 this Agency's decision to be in both bad faith and 8 lacking any substantial evidence, the Agency pursued an 9 appeal through superior court. The SPB has reversed and 10 denied a request for hearing.

11 I represent myself in this matter.

12 Since I separated from my spouse in late
13 December of last year, I have received several e-mails
14 indicating my spouse has been in contact with your 15 agency's counsel, Barrett McInerney. Mr. McInerney is 16 representing CalHFA in the appeal.

17 These e-mails are of a threatening tone.

18 I dismissed them at first because I could not 19 imagine that even your hired gun, Mr. McInerney, would 20 engage with an estranged spouse of an adversarial
21 party -- myself obviously being the adversarial party.

22 To my disbelief, I discovered that
23 Mr. McInerney and my spouse have been involved in a
24 dialogue leading to the inclusion of divorce documents
25 in a CalHFA court filing on April 5th. That document

1 contains spurious allegations, included personal
2 financial information, my separate property information,
3 as well as handwritten allegations and prejudicial
4 comments by my spouse on an exhibit -- two exhibits, in 5 fact.

6 Mr. McInerney utterly failed to do any due
7 diligence as to the allegations, and relied on someone 8 with clearly improper motive. He also seemingly 9 strategically omitted a page of my separate property
10 declaration to grossly overstate my assets.

11 I am entering my third year of law school. In 12 the Agency's filings, your hired gun stated that I should 13 be reported to the State Bar.

14 Given the gravity of these specious charges,
15 I discussed the matter with the dean and an ethics
16 professor at UC Davis Law School. Both parties indicated
17 that Mr. McInerney's conduct fell below the standard of 18 due diligence and presented a serious ethical and moral 19 question in his approach to impugn my character.

20 Judge Kenny in Sacramento Superior Court agreed 21 to redact the handwritten comments and allegations from 22 the CalHFA filing. He did this presumably because he 23 agreed with me that they have no place in this 24 litigation.

25 In light of these facts, it would seem that

1 Mr. McInerney's conduct, including some prior incidents
2 that I will address at a future date, should, in fact, be 3 subject to a bar investigation.

4 In the early part of April, I sent a letter to 5 Acting Director Spears and General Counsel Hughes
6 regarding Mr. McInerney's conduct. Subsequent to that 7 letter, I discovered that Mr. McInerney was not acting
8 alone. In fact, your Human Resource attorney, Victor
9 James, was included on e-mail correspondence between my 10 spouse and Mr. McInerney. Thus, it would appear your 11 agency has condoned this behavior.

12 Moreover, Mr. James had personal knowledge
13 based on these communications that your agency's filings
14 contained misrepresentations regarding my assets, my 15 separate-property assets.

16 I understood the mission of this organization
17 is facilitating affordable housing to our state's 18 residents. In fact, that's why I accepted a job here
19 over six years ago.

20 I cannot fathom why this case has raised the 21 ire of Mr. McInerney, and seemingly your agency, to the 22 extent that you are willing to cross ethical boundaries
23 in an effort to damage my reputation.

24 As I continue to pursue my appeals, I ask this 25 board and your director to make some inquiries in light

1 of this information, and consider the actions by 2 Mr. McInerney and Mr. James.

3 I would suggest that there be an effort to rein
4 in Agency staff and their counsel's scorched-earth
5 approach in this appeal litigation.

6 The rejection was without merit and unjust.
7 But the Agency's subsequent actions in crossing the lines
8 of litigation are no less than morally repugnant.

9 Thank you.

10 And I'm happy to answer any questions or 11 provide any information.

12 CHAIR CAREY: I'm sure you can appreciate the 13 fact that based on that this is legal, professional, and 14 personnel, I don't think the Board can engage in any 15 conversation with you at this point.

16 MS. LeDUC: That's fine. I hope that someone 17 raises this at the appropriate time, and consider the 18 information I've presented to you.

19 Thank you.

20 CHAIR CAREY: Thank you very much.

21 Are there others who wish to address the Board
22 at this time?

23 (No response)

1 Item 10. Discussion of other Board matters

2 CHAIR CAREY: Seeing none, we now have moved to 3 the discussion of other Board matters.

4 And we'd like to take the opportunity to go out
5 of our way to thank Steve Spears.

6 Steve, you've got to pay attention to this 7 part.

8 Steve, come on up here, why don't you?

9 We have had the benefit and opportunity to 10 work very closely with Steve in the past two and a half
11 years, since December of 2008, when he was kind of thrust
12 into the role of acting executive director, and then 13 ultimately executive director.

14 I think that we all feel very strongly that 15 you have done an above-and-beyond job of leading the 16 Agency through an incredibly difficult time.

17 I won't even mention some of the many things,
18 such as the office relocation, the West Sacramento move,
19 ramping up MHSA, single-family program loan servicing,
20 Keep Your Home California -- I wasn't going to mention
21 those names, but...

22 MS. PETERS: Bay Area Housing --

23 CHAIR CAREY: The Bay Area Housing Plan, the 24 remarkable job of managing the Agency's debt portfolio,
25 working with Standard & Poor's, Moody's, Wall Street,

1 HUD, NCSHA, the State of California --

2 MS. CAPPPIO: The Treasury.

3 CHAIR CAREY: -- the Treasury, and the
4 Treasurer's office and HCD and TCAC and other state
5 agencies, all at the same time making some tough
6 decisions, such as the gap decision, which was tough,
7 significantly enhancing the transparency of the Agency
8 and the role of the Board. Even as the Board has 9 continued to turn over somewhat, the relationship with 10 the Board is excellent.

11 We sort of developed the "Survive, revive,
12 thrive" mantra. And not only has the Agency survived,
13 but I'm happy to see that you have also. And we might 14 have had some doubts.

15 And, Steve, from a personal point of view, I
16 think that what I know, is that you're never one to take 17 credit alone. It's always the team. It's always the 18 team that we hear about from Steve. And that is the 19 truth, because it is a remarkable team. And it takes a 20 good leader to recognize that, and I think that's 21 important.

22 I think that the Agency; the Board; the 23 State, capital S; the state, small S; and those who have 24 benefited from CalHFA as residents, as tenants, as 25 homeowners, owe you a great deal of thanks for the past

1 two and a half years, in addition to your service as 2 chief deputy before that.

3 But the needs are still there; and I think that 4 as the Agency survives, revives, thrives, that it's also 5 the future residents and the future homeowners that also 6 owe you a vote of thanks.

7 And so, thank you.

8 And I think we have --

9 MS. CAPPPIO: We do. We have a little 10 presentation.

11 CHAIR CAREY: -- a presentation for you.

12 So why don't you come up here?

13 MS. CAPPPIO: So this is a certificate of 14 appreciation for Steve, in honor and recognition of his 15 invaluable leadership, dedication, and commitment to 16 CalHFA during the perfect financial storm of 2008 through 17 2011.

18 (Applause)

19 MS. CAPPPIO: Oh, and here is a little 20 something, too.

21 MR. GUNNING: A pink envelope.

22 MR. SPEARS: It's not money.

23 I think you guys know how I feel about this 24 board and the Agency, and especially employees and the 25 senior executive team that work so hard through all this.

1 And thank you very much for the kind words; but it's not
2 something you do by yourself. And we have business
3 partners that saw our way through all this. And I think
4 I have all those folks to thank.

5 And I have Heather to thank for the "Survive,
6 revive, and thrive" mantra.

7 So thank you. Thank you very much.

8 (Applause)

9 CHAIR CAREY: Any other Board members want to 10 say anything?

11 (Applause)

12 CHAIR CAREY: Steve, it's been quite a run.
13 And we have quite a future to look forward to.

14 MR. SPEARS: Yes.

15 MS. PETERS: I'm happy that you're a part of 16 our future.

17 CHAIR CAREY: Yes.

18 MS. CAPPIO: Yes, excellently happy.

19 CHAIR CAREY: And glad to have Claudia with us.
20 So with that, I think I can safely adjourn the 21 meeting.

22 (Gavel sounded)

23 (The meeting was adjourned at 12:57 p.m.)
