California Housing Finance Agency's HELP Program Awards City of Clovis $950 Thousand for Affordable Housing

SACRAMENTO, July 15, 2004 - The California Housing Finance Agency's (CalHFA), Housing Enabled by Local Partnerships (HELP) program has awarded the City of Clovis $950 thousand to fund the production of affordable rental housing projects. This represents one of 11 California localities, in total, awarded $11.99 million in low-interest loans to acquire, develop, rehabilitate, or preserve affordable rental or ownership housing.

The HELP Program financing will be leveraged by pooling it with the City's other sources of affordable housing funds. The City plans to finance a revolving loan program that will offer low-interest loans to assist developers with the development of affordable housing for low income households.

"The partnership between CalHFA and the City of Clovis will benefit this community by providing safe, decent and affordable housing to those most in need," said Theresa Parker, CalHFA Executive Director. "The people of CalHFA believe in the value of this type of partnership which is why the HELP program has partnered with over 90 local government entities to fund $120 million in affordable housing projects since 1999.”

The HELP program is designed to foster partnerships between CalHFA and local government entities to address unmet affordable housing needs as determined by each participating locality. CalHFA uses a competitive process to award ten-year loans at a three percent interest rate. CalHFA through the HELP program offers two funding cycles of $10 million in the fall and spring of each year. Recipients of the semi-annual award are evaluated on six criteria: affordability, cost efficiency, maximization of benefits, implementation readiness, resource impact and comprehensiveness of program design.

CalHFA, the State’s affordable housing bank, was chartered in 1975 to meet the housing needs of low and moderate income Californians. HELP’s funding commitments to date will help to finance over 18,000 units of affordable housing for Californians that are most in need.
